

CALIFORNIA TOWNS WIPED OUT BY FIRE

MARTIAL LAW IS CONTINUED OVER OKLAHOMA STATE

Governor Makes "Daring Invasion of Enemy Country"

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 18.—The State Legislature of Oklahoma will assemble in special session either late this week or early next week regardless of military or other edict or environment. This statement is made upon unimpeachable authority.

Muskogee, Okla., Sept. 18.—After again hurling his threat of undying warfare at the Ku Klux Klan in Oklahoma County, the first to be placed under martial law in the fight which he has now extended state-wide, Governor J. C. Walton today returned to Oklahoma City. In some quarters the governor's visit was described as "a daring invasion of enemy country."

The governor appeared last night before the Oklahoma Federation of Labor at Henryetta, coal mining center where state troops were employed for the first time with the announced intention of stopping floggings.

Peaceful Oklahoma City, scarcely heeding the political upheaval which at first was taken "with a grain of salt" awoke this morning to face another restriction—the indefinite suspension of the annual state fair, which was to begin Saturday.

"I believe the gatherings at the state fair will hamper operation of martial law," Governor Walton declared today.

"Furthermore, I am going to use the force to confiscate food and take it to farmers in Marshall and Carter Counties, where they are literally starving to death on account of the summer drought."

Postponing of the state fair will mean loss of many thousands of dollars and disappointment to thousands of exhibitors who already have exhibits on the grounds brought here from many southwestern states, according to the fair commissioners.

Bitter denunciation, however, was not heard. The people of Oklahoma were quiet. They appeared to be more or less stunned.

"The fight on the Klan is no longer a religious affair," the governor said in his speech. "The organization is trying to control the government of the entire state. It is in open anarchy and rebellion and must be put down."

Armed guards stand at the great doors of the chambers of the senate and house of representatives, bayonets fixed. No one is allowed to pass. That is to prevent, physically, if necessary, an extraordinary session of the legislature in an attempt to impeach the governor.

Reinforcements of national guardsmen are being brought in. No reason was given for this at headquarters. But the military shows indications of uneasiness over the tenacity of the situation here, growing out of martial law. Machine guns command the streets, bristling from public buildings. During guard mounts there was some jeering from spectators.

Plans for emergency mobilization at any point in the city have been drawn. Guardsmen are stationed at the siren of the local gas corporation. Five blasts of the whistle will be the signal for all units to mobilize at central points and warn that trouble has broken out.

One of the outstanding developments was the successful effort of Mayor Cargill to have Chief of Police Frazier and his assistants reinstated. The mayor had threatened to withdraw the entire police force and leave the military to police the city alone. He ordered the police to walk-out, but Col. W. S. Key, commander of the troops here, ordered Frazier reinstated, under supervision of Captain N. J. Moore, military dictator of civil police.

Militia in Control.
The militia continues to exercise strict supervision over every branch of the government in the city and county. The power of the sheriff is nullified.

Judge George W. Clark, presiding judge of the district court, did not organize a grand jury. Instead he swore in the jurors as a petit jury, for trial of civil cases alone.

An artillery unit of the national guard, stationed at Enid, was ordered mobilized and will entrain for Oklahoma City. These troops will be stationed at capital hill and the big guns will guard the state house.

Full pressure of martial law is being felt in this city. Regular street car service was ordered stopped from 11:30 p. m. to 5 a. m. Streets must be cleared of pedestrians at midnight. Persons finding it necessary to be out after that hour must obtain a military pass or be subject to arrest and court martial. Main roads entering the city are being patrolled.

WEDDING POSTPONED TO GIVE RELIEF AT CORFU

Stephen E. Lowe & Miss Emma Wood.

Cries of relief as a result of the bombardment of Corfu by the Italian fleet caused the postponement of the wedding of Col. Stephen E. Lowe, of St. Louis, Mo., Near East Relief Director at Corfu, where a great asylum for Greek and Armenian refugees has been opened in a palace that once belonged to ex-Kaiser Wilhelm, to Miss Emma

Wood, of Sarnia, Ont., relief nurse at the orphanage, which is located at Achilleon, a few miles from Corfu. All the children from another shelled orphanage in the old fort were removed there. Colonel Lowe and Miss Wood had planned to sail the same day for Athens to be married, but gave up their plans temporarily to attend the wounded.

POLITICAL POT STARTS BOILING AS PEPPER AND REED SILENT

Washington, Sept. 18.—The refusal of two such stalwart Republican regulars as Senator George Wharton Pepper and Senator David A. Reed to lend their endorsements to the Coolidge candidacy for 1924 had every political tongue in Washington wagging at both ends today.

Since Calvin Coolidge moved into the White House some six weeks ago the capital has become used to seeing prominent Republicans make pilgrimages to Washington and climb aboard the Coolidge band wagon.

Consequently the carefully prepared statement of the two Pennsylvania senators, issued after they had left the president's office, stating they could neither endorse Mr. Coolidge or Governor Gifford Pinchot at this early stage of the game, struck a decidedly discordant note in what otherwise has been a steady song of Republican harmony.

"If it be true," said their statement, "that President Coolidge will consent to be a candidate for the nomination, and if it be true, as likewise rumored, that Governor Pinchot has presidential aspirations a situation will develop upon which a senator from Pennsylvania ought not to express himself prematurely, or otherwise than after the most serious reflection."

Nothing could be more guarded or leave the door more widely opened to future developments.

The situation is further complicated by the fact that Senator Pepper himself is known to harbor presidential aspirations.

Chief interest today centered in the reasons which prompted the Pennsylvania senators to thus announce their attitude at this particular time.

Various reasons were assigned, all of which were conjectural, as both Pepper and Reed refused to add anything to their enigmatical statement. Among the opinions heard as to the significance of the move were these:

1—A warning that President Coolidge is not to be allowed to romp away with the nomination uncontested.

2—A shrewd political move, designed to invite Governor Pinchot to either affirm or deny that he has "presidential aspirations."

3—A notice to Governor Pinchot that the two senators from Pennsylvania are going to be heard from in case he attempts to carry a Pennsylvania delegation with him to the Chicago convention.

4—An invitation to other Republican aspirants that "the bars are down" and that Pennsylvania is on the fence and not committed to any one.

It is recalled that the first signs of insurgency against a second term

TO DECIDE WHETHER TRIAL WILL BE HELD

Columbus, Sept. 18.—Whether William G. Benham, president, and Dwight Harrison, vice president, and secretary of the defunct R. L. Dollings company of Ohio are to be prosecuted in Franklin County on grounds of misappropriation and misrepresentation will probably be known late today when the grand jury is expected to announce its decision.

The result of the grand jury's investigation is also expected to show whether or not lesser officials and directors of subsidiary concerns are to be prosecuted.

FINAL ATTEMPT TO STOP WARD TRIAL FAILURE

Motion to Dismiss First Degree Murder Charge Is Denied

Courthouse, White Plains, N. Y., Sept. 18.—The final attempt to prevent the trial of Walter E. Ward on a charge of murdering Clarence M. Peters, Haverhill, Mass., sailor, failed today when Supreme Court Justice Robert F. Wagner denied a motion of Ward's counsel to dismiss the first degree murder charge and ordered the trial to proceed.

Ward, his wife and brother, Ralph accompanied by defense attorneys entered court early. Previously Mrs. Ward had visited with her husband at the sheriff's office in the jail.

She was attired in a one piece tailored blue dress, wearing furs and a small hat. She sat beside her husband, holding his hand at intervals during the morning.

Every seat was filled a half hour before the trial.

Women predominated in the crowd. Many were young girls. State police stood guard at all doors.

Duncan M. Rose, the first witness, told of finding Peters' body. He was questioned minutely as to its position and condition.

CONFERENCE CONTINUED

Cleveland, Sept. 18.—Ins.—An unexpected rush of business caused the northeast Ohio conference of the Methodist Episcopal church to continue its sessions today. It was hoped however, as the five hundred ministers reconvened at the Lakewood Methodist Episcopal church this morning that the last matter might be settled and the list of appointments in the ten districts read about noon.

Wife Asks Governor To Effect Husband's Release

Dayton, O., Sept. 18.—A broken-hearted but still hopeful wife today is hoping that Governor Donahay will pardon her husband, so that he may take his place in life, from which he was snatched by the dictates of society, three or four weeks ago.

John Sadders is the man who was torn from the side of his wife by officers of the law, who told him that the demands of society had not been satisfied, and that he must return to the Ohio Penitentiary to finish his life term for the murder of Harry House, a saloonist, in 1906.

Sadders and two others were convicted a number of years ago. All three went to prison. The two others were pardoned. Sadders one day had a chance and walked away. He returned to Montgomery County, lived an upright life, met the woman, who later became his wife, and after he had told her all married her.

Both worked hard and established a little home in Salem, where both were very happy. Neighbors suspected not the past of Mr. Sadders, who was industrious and a good citizen.

FRANCE TO ACCORD LOANS TO NATIONS

Paris, Sept. 17.—New loans, in the amount of 800,000,000 francs, in addition to 200,000,000 already granted, will be accorded to the countries of the little entente by France for the purchase of munitions and material for national defense. The loans will be divided between Poland, Yugoslavia and Roumania, and will in all likelihood be expended in France for the purchase of munitions. Poland and Yugoslavia already have been the recipients of similar loans from France. Hungary may possibly be accorded permission to launch loans in the French market.

NIGHT FLYING TEST DELAYED BY WEATHER

Washington, Sept. 16.—The scheduled test flight of the dirigible ZR-1 from Lakehurst, N. J., to Washington, has been postponed until Saturday because of unfavorable weather conditions. It was announced at the Navy Department today.

Naval officers at Lakehurst reported to the navy bureau of aeronautics that danger would be encountered in taking the big ship out of its hangar today because of the gusty winds.

She is also a poet, her lyrics having attracted much favorable praise in Russian literary circles. She has also written much of social problems especially on suicide.

SPANISH MAYORS ARE PLACED UNDER ARREST TUESDAY

Madrid, Sept. 18.—The military directory today ordered the arrest of virtually all the mayors in Catalonia. Nearly all are friends of President General Primo Rivera, head of the revolutionary government and captain general of Catalonia.

Two generals have been appointed to supervise the prosecution of former foreign minister Alba, who has fled to Biarritz.

Contrary reports were current regarding Senor Alba. One was that he had sent a letter to General Primo Rivera saying he would never return because he believed Spain would become a country like Mexico, with frequent revolutions. Another was that he had promised to come back if granted a speedy and impartial trial.

A. P. Moore, the American ambassador, believes the new government will achieve success. Spanish circles quote him as saying Spain has not had such a strong government in 25 years.

King Alfonso has signed the decree establishing 45,000 somatenes, an organization similar to the Fascist in Italy or the home guards established in the United States in war time.

LOCAL MAN ON LIST SLATED FOR PAROLE

Lester Lewis, 34, Xenia, colored, sent to the penitentiary about a year ago for grand larceny, will be paroled October 1. He is one of 98 prisoners who will be paroled or given conditional release soon, according to word from Columbus, Tuesday.

The State Board of Clemency examined 188 applicants for clemency. Of the prisoners paroled, more than half were ordered to leave the state immediately upon their release. Many cases were continued to the 1924 meeting of the board.

Lewis was sent to the penitentiary for his part in the robbery of a railroad box car at Yellow Springs some time ago when a number of hides were stolen. Lewis escaped after the affair but was finally located in Michigan where county authorities placed him under arrest and returned him here.

BREAKS SPEED RECORDS.
Mitchell Field, L. I., Sept. 18.—Lieutenant Al Williams, a navy flier today broke all speed records known to aviation.

Over a one kilometer course he averaged 247.50 miles an hour for four trips and one section of the flight was rushing through the air at a rate of 266 miles an hour, officials at the field declared.

FOREST BLAZES THREATEN OTHER CITIES; BERKELEY SUFFERS GREATEST LOSS

Conflagrations are Raging in 20 Counties of the State and Thousands of Persons Are Battling Flames in Many Sections

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 18.—With six northern California towns and cities either completely devastated or damaged by fire resulting from forest and grass blazes and a dozen others endangered, thousands of fire fighters, including soldiers and marines were endeavoring to check the most disastrous series of conflagrations in years.

The fires are raging twenty counties. The heaviest damage was at Berkeley where the property loss was estimated today by the city manager at $5,000,000.

The towns that burned in the path of the flames included Woodacre, Marin County; Cavedell, Sonoma County; Eldorado, Eldorado County; Forest Knolls, Marin County, and Boyes Springs, Sonoma County, in addition to a large section of Berkeley. More than a dozen towns, big summer resorts, between 50 and 100 fine summer homes and scores of stock ranches, vineyards and other Sonoma County show places have gone up in flames and thousands of acres of timber and brush land burned over.

Among the towns reported early today to be endangered by the blaze are Fairfax, San Anselmo, Ross, Lagunitas, Bolinas, Ignacio and Novato, Marin County, Guerneville and Sonoma City in Sonoma County; Fairfield in Solano County and Diamond Springs in Eldorado County.

Among the summer resorts wiped out which were nationally known were Agua Calientes, El Verano and Boyes Springs.

A pall of smoke today hung over the entire state from Santa Barbara north. Near Santa Barbara a great forest fire which already has burned over 100,000 acres was being fought.

North of San Francisco every available means of communication brought appeals for aid from stricken stations. Bolinas used wireless to broadcast an appeal for 500 soldiers to aid in fighting the flames menacing the little town. Wire communication was crippled and the full extent of the destruction may not be known for days. Hope was held out today that the fires may be checked as the high wind which reached a velocity at some places of 90 miles an hour yesterday was greatly abated.

In Marin and Contra Costa Counties marines and soldiers joined in fighting the fires and it is probable that other detachments will be sent today to threatened points. Regular and national guard troops were on duty also in the burned area at Berkeley.

Dozens of narrow escapes from flames were reported in northern California. When the flames swept down the Sonoma valley John Cadral saved the lives of his wife and three children by lowering them into a well.

Burning of railroad trestles delayed aid sent to Boyes Springs from San Francisco, but motor apparatus reached the place.

In Napa County 150 tubercular patients were hurried from sanitariums endangered by the fire. In that county alone damage was estimated at nearly $250,000.

The most menacing situations however, today existed in Sonoma and

DECLARES STRIKE IN EAST IS ILLEGAL

New York, Sept. 18.—Declaring the strike illegal and without sanction by the international union, George L. Berry, president of the International Printing Pressmen's Union of North America today voiced the determination of the union to "execute and publish" the newspapers of New York City.

New York City awoke to find its morning paper missing from the doorstep.

A strike of 2,500 members of the Newspaper Web Pressmen's union, local 25, tied up practically every daily in the greater city. An exception was the New York Call, socialist.

The walkout came as a culmination of 18 months of bitter strife over wages and working conditions. It was unexpected, however, as far as the public was concerned.

DISCUSS VIADUCT REPAIRING

City commissioners with engineers W. F. Foster and El Grabbe, of Dayton, investigated the flooring in the Monroe street viaduct over the Pennsylvania Railroad Monday afternoon. Loose paving blocks on the slopes, it is said, will demand repairs or new flooring. The question will be decided at the next meeting of the commission.

Marin Counties. In both counties all able bodied men have been appealed to, to aid in fighting the flames.

All of the fires sweeping Sonoma county were reported today under control. The damage in the famous Valley of the Moon country was estimated today at $1,000,000 and that in the Russian river section at $500,000.

The reported loss of five lives at Cavedale was still unconfirmed today.

MINERS TO RETURN TO WORK; PEACE PACT IS NOW RATIFIED

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 18.—The 155,000 workers of the anthracite region who have been idle since Sept. 1 will return to the mines Wednesday morning.

The two-year peace pact, reached 10 days ago by the union chiefs and operators at Harrisburg with Governor Pinchot, was ratified at the tri-district convention of the miners here. In the convention hall, where 500 delegates representing every local in the hard coal belt were seated, there rose but 20 voices in objection to ratification. This little group represented some of the day men employed about the collieries, who are not satisfied with the 10 per cent increase.

The tri-district convention moved rapidly after it was called to order by Rinaldo Cappellini, president of District No. 1. Thomas Kennedy, head of the Hazleton district, was elected temporary chairman. He read the reports on the agreement reached by the miners' leaders and operators at Harrisburg.

Mr. Kennedy then referred to John L. Lewis, international president, who was seated on the platform. "Foch, Joffre and Pershing led the great armies to victory," said Mr. Kennedy. "We have Foch, Joffre and Pershing combined in President Lewis, who has led the miners to the greatest victory in their history. Lewis is the greatest Roman of them all."

FLYING FIELDS TO ENTER AIRPLANES

Dayton, O., Sept. 18.—McCook and Wilbur Wright fields will be well represented at the St. Louis air races, October 1 to 3 inclusive. The two Curtiss bullets, having been put into condition have been shipped to St. Louis. The U. S. Air Services pins its faith on these two ships, to cop the prize in spite of the claims set up by naval pilots.

The bullets will be driven by Lieutenants Miller of Crissey Field and Lieutenant Corkhill, Brooks Field. Their alternate pilots are Lieutenant Beau of Bolling Field and Lieutenant Harry Mills, Wilbur Wright Field. McCook Field will send a display of airplanes, showing the advance made in the science of aviation since it was invented by Wright Brothers.

McGANNON DENIED PAROLE
Columbus, Sept. 18.—Appeal for parole of William H. McGannon, former chief justice of the municipal court of Cleveland, serving from one to 10 years in the penitentiary for perjury, was denied by the state board of clemency. In announcing the decision Chairman Price Russell of the board said McGannon's appeal was not definitely denied, but was postponed for 30 days while the board did some further investigating in his case.

WRITES OF TRIP TO WEST AND ALASKA

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Eavey, who have been absent for the last three months on an extended business trip through California and Alaska are expected to arrive home Saturday of this week. They went first to California where Mr. Eavey personally selected the peaches that will be sold by the Eavey Company this season.

After visiting at various points in California Mr. and Mrs. Eavey went to Alaska where Mr. Eavey looked after the buying of the salmon which is packed for the company. In a letter received last week from Mr. Eavey by the employees at the home office, written on board the steamship, "Queen" enroute to Skagway, Alaska, he says:

"A strange, strange land—another world altogether. All day we have been in the midst of ice and snow. This morning we ran within a few feet of a large iceberg. I was asleep so did not see it but there has been much floating ice all day and some of the large glaciers are in this territory. This afternoon we passed the great Muir glacier no one knows how thick but miles in extent. The wind is sure cold when it blows over these icefields but the air is nice and warm when the sun shines—which is seldom. It either rains or snows all the time and the hills are always covered with snow many feet deep.

"Tomorrow we expect to leave the boat for a short trip about one hundred miles north, up into the White-Pass, Yukon, district but will not have time to go as far as Dawson. This is a freight boat and will be loading salmon at Skagway all day so we can go up the White-Pass gold trail.

"We are now tied up at the dock of a cannery factory unloading cans. It is on an island covered with ice and snow and nothing else but the factory here. All the help, supplies, etc. are brought up in the spring and stay until the pack is finished. No way to get here but by water; no roads of any kind and no need for any as no one lives here. Only 70,000 people in all this waste land of Alaska, the richest land in the world in natural resources. Untold wealth of fish, timber and mineral, and all virgin territory.

"This morning we were in a gold mill and mine. Rock is taken out of the mountains and crushed and the gold, silver, lead and zinc burned out in a furnace, and then molded into bricks about the size of two packages of 'E' coffee. This weighs about fifty pounds and is worth $36,000.

"All the cables are down so I sent a radio about fish. We will be home about the 22nd. I have learned a lot about salmon that we never heard of at home.

WOMAN SO ILL COULD NOT WORK

Gained Strength, Weight and Now Doing Own Work, by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Marion, Ind.—"I was all run-down, nervous and bent over. I could hardly drag around, let alone do my work. I read some letters in the papers telling what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others and I thought I would try it. Then a man told his wife and what good it had done her and wanted him to have me try it. I took one bottle and could see what it did for me in a week's time, and when I had taken three bottles I had gained both in strength and weight and was doing my own work. I took it before my last baby was born and it helped me so much. I sure am glad to recommend the Vegetable Compound to any woman who suffers from female ailments, for I know by experience what it can do. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash, also the Liver Pills, too, and think them fine." Mrs. Wm. Eldridge, 620 E. Grant Street, Marion, Indiana.

A record of nearly fifty years service should convince you of the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

G. O. P. REDUCES SOUTH'S QUOTA FOR CONVENTION.

A reduction of 13 per cent in the number of Southern delegates to the next Republican National Convention, despite an increase from 984 to 1036 in the total number for the entire country, was announced by Chairman Adams.

The States which suffered under the allotment of delegates, made under authority of a resolution adopted by the Chicago convention of 1920, are Georgia, cut from seventeen to nine; Louisiana, from twelve to nine; Mississippi, from twelve to four; South Carolina, from eleven to four; Texas, from twenty-three to seventeen. Florida gained two.

The "Solid South," over whose representation at Republican conventions there has been controversy for many years, culminating in the dissensions of 1912 and simmering ever since, will have only 154 votes in the 1924 convention of 1036 delegates as against 177 votes out of 984 in 1920.

Almost every other State gains two additional votes, the exceptions being those noted. The West is the chief beneficiary of the new apportionment, New England and the Middle Atlantic States holding their own, but losing the preponderance of power they held a generation ago.

New England will have 100 delegates in 1924 as against eighty-seven in 1920; the Middle Atlantic States, 226 against 214; Central States, 218 instead of 208; Middle West, 106 against 98; Northwest, 78 against 70; Southwest 38 against 32; Rocky Mountain States, 60 against 48; Pacific Coast, 56 against 50. The Territories and the District of Columbia remain as before at two delegates each.

Thirty-two delegates were lopped off the representation of five of the most solid states of the solid south. This may help for honesty in the next Republican National Convention in the selection of the candidate. The custom has been, and likely will be continued in modified form now, to use the representation in the convention from states where they practically have no Republican party, for trading purposes, to get the candidate most acceptable to the South. We are glad this shameful practice is to be "cut" this 30 per cent. Many of these states get only four delegates, because under the new rule every State was allowed that number.

"PULQUE" MAKES DRUNK IN MEXICO.

There is a distinct advance in temperance reform throughout Mexico, and much territory is now under prohibition. The government, as represented by President Obregon and Secretaries Del a Huerta and Calles, stand firmly behind this movement. I have a recent letter from the president of the republic in which Obregon writes in characteristic Spanish idiom, in response to my statement in a public address on prohibition in Mexico: "I believe frankly that your prestige as a prophet is not being compromised too much when you state that our tendency is toward prohibition and that at an early date Mexico will enter into that state." More than one Northern State is now largely dry. The State of Oaxaca has taxed the saloons practically out of existence. The minister of education recently placed 1,000 textbooks on "Temperance" in the hands of the teachers of the public schools. In all deeds to land under the new agrarian laws the raising of the maguay plant, out of which intoxicating pulque is made, is prohibited.—Exchange.

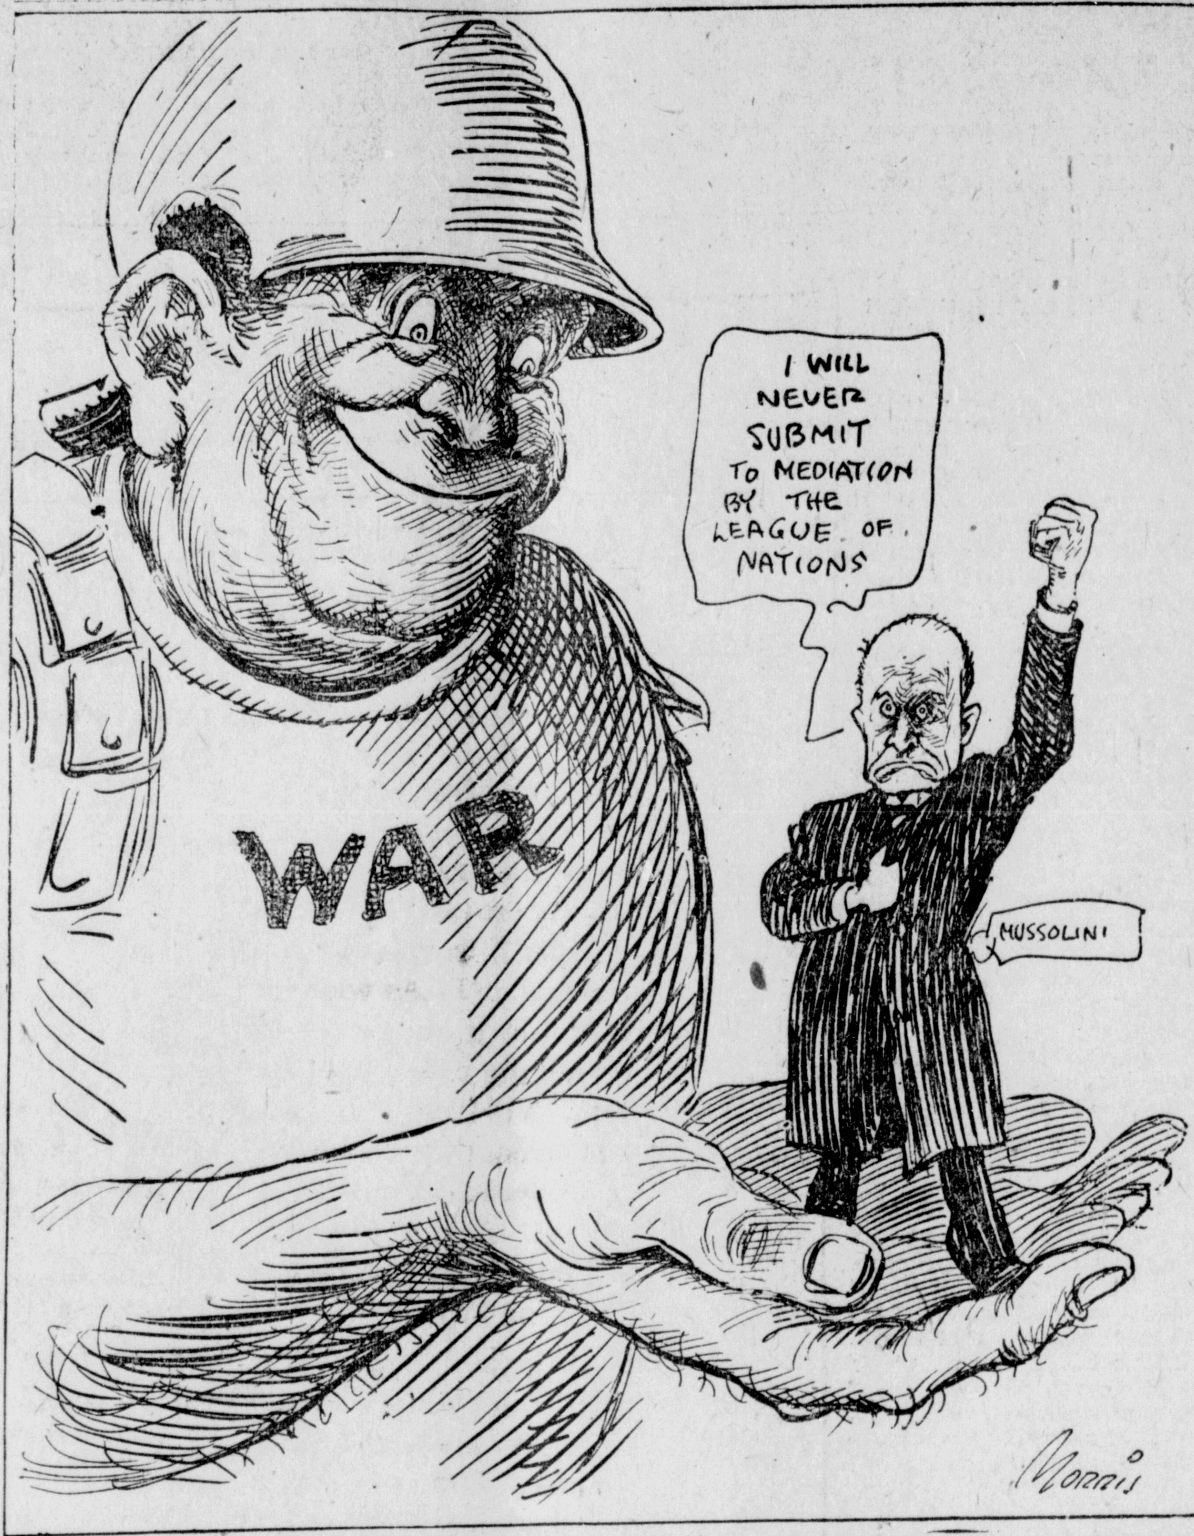

INTERESTING.

There were remarkable coincidences in the lives of Abraham Lincoln and Jefferson Davis. Both were born in Kentucky; Lincoln in 1809, Davis in 1808. Both removed from their native state in childhood, Lincoln to the Northwest, Davis to the Southwest. Lincoln was a Captain of Volunteers and Davis a Second Lieutenant of Regulars in the Black Hawk war of 1832. They began their political careers the same year, 1844, Lincoln being a Presidential Elector for Clay, and Davis for Polk. They were elected to Congress about the same time, 1845 and 1846. They were called to preside over their respective governments the same year and within a few days; Davis, February 8, 1861; Lincoln, March 4, 1861.

Washington, Monroe and Jackson were soldiers in the Revolutionary war; Jackson, W. H. Harrison, Tyler, Taylor, and Buchanan in the war of 1812-15; Lincoln in the Black Hawk war; Taylor, Pierce and Grant in the Mexican war; Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Arthur B. Harrison, and McKinley in the Civil War, and Roosevelt was in the war with Spain. Adams and Jefferson were signers of the Declaration of Independence, and Washington and Madison of the Constitution.

Grant was christened Hiram Ulysses and Cleveland, Stephen Grover. W. H. Harrison was the oldest man elected to the Presidency, and Roosevelt the youngest, Grant being the next youngest by six months. Cleveland was the only President married in the White House, and his second daughter the only resident's child born therein. Monroe's daughter (Mrs. Gouverneur), Tyler's daughter (Mrs. Walker), Grant's daughter (Mrs. Sartoris), Roosevelt's daughter (Mrs. Longworth) and Wilson's daughters, Jessie (Mrs. Sayre) and Eleanor (Mrs. McAdoo) were the only children of Presidents married therein. Wives of Tyler, Benjamin Harrison, and Wilson died in the White House. John Tyler was father of the largest family, eight sons and six daughters. Eight Presidents: Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, W. H. Harrison, Tyler, Taylor, and Wilson were Virginians by birth. Six Presidents: Grant, Hayes, Garfield, B. Harrison, McKinley, and Taft, were Ohioans by birth.

Mrs. M.: "On August 14 one of your readers asked for a recipe for the following, which I am glad to send to help her: Transparent Pie: Cream together one-half cup of butter and one cup of sugar; add the beaten yolks of three eggs, one-half teaspoon of grated nutmeg, the grated rind and strained juice of one-half lemon, two tablespoons of fruit juice (we used to use Brandy but now substitute grapejuice) then fold in the beaten whites of the three eggs to which one teaspoon of baking powder has been added. Turn this mixture into a pastry-lined pan and bake for 30 minutes in a hot oven. If liked, the edge of the pie may be decorated with the following: Meringues, Beat three egg-whites stiff, add to them three tablespoons of powdered sugar and one-half tablespoon of lemon juice.

Answer: It was good of you to send this recipe to be published to help another housekeeper. I believe that many other Column Readers will try it as well.

M. E. S.: "Could you tell me how to remove orange spots from a pink taffeta dress? I would appreciate this as the dress was expensive."

Answer: I know how discouraged you must feel about the dress. I wish I could tell you of some absolutely sure way of removing the spots, but oranges are acid—and acid stains are very difficult to overcome. The only thing I know of for such a case is sponging the stained part of the fabric with ammonia and water (weak), then sponging it with chloroform; sometimes this will restore the color of the material, but, remember, this is only a suggestion and I do not actually advise it because it is not successful in all cases. It also works, sometimes, with spots caused by lemon juice and vinegar—but you must do it at your own risk.

A Reader Friend: "Here is the recipe for Potato Flour Muffins which was recently requested in the column: Beat together the yolks of four eggs and two tablespoons of sugar; add three tablespoons of cold water; sift in three-quarters of a cup of potato flour (or one cup of wheat flour, if you wish to use this for ordinary muffins) and add one-half teaspoon of salt. Beat the four egg-whites stiff, adding to them, when nearly stiff, one teaspoon of baking powder, then fold the whites into the batter. Turn into greased muffin pans and bake 20 minutes in a hot oven."

Answer: Thank you, Reader Friend. If anybody cannot buy potato flour at their local grocer's, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and I will send the address of a firm that sells it by mail.

MRS. MARGARET RAYMOND, COLUMBUS, OHIO.

The old adage that "Nothing succeeds like success" is proven every day. Ka-di-ok, the stomach remedy, and system builder, is a success, and it is such because it succeeds. If Ka-di-ok was other than a remedy of extraordinary merit, no such outburst of public approval could be had.

That Ka-di-ok is a remedy of unusual merit is proven every day by the large number of testimonials received from people in signed statements as to the benefits they have derived from its use. Recently Mrs. Margaret Raymond, who lives at 1005 Cleveland avenue, Columbus said:

"I was in very poor physical condition and as weak and nervous as could be; barely had strength enough to keep on my feet and could hardly eat a thing. I had been through a serious operation and my weight was 108 pounds."

"I took Ka-di-ok, which had been highly recommended to me, and the result has been most gratifying; it gave me a good appetite, helped my nerves, and I rapidly grew stronger. I recently weighed myself and tipped the scales at 142 pounds. I now feel as well as ever."

Ka-di-ok can be had in Xenia at Savie & Hemphill's Drug Store. adv

Just Folks

THE INEVITABLE
Grief has no boundaries or dividing lines:
It treads the world according to God's will,
And gives no thought to any man's designs
Nor heeds the dreams he struggles to fulfill.

It is the common visitor to all.
It comes unbidden to the great and low;
We know some day upon us it will fall
But when the hour shall be we cannot know.

We may not plead: "Oh Lord, we need his smile."
He may not plead: "This labor have I planned—
Let me continue for a little while."
God wills, and all must bow to God's command.

We dream our dreams and plan our weeks and days,
We send our hopes of earthly joy afar.

We think we must press on for glory or praise,
Only to learn how trivial these are.

The wheels stop—There is crop upon the door—
What seemed important has been thrust aside—
How strange it seems some men to be as before!
"What matters trade when one you loved has died?"

Faith teaches us that we must be prepared.
Be ready with our courage for the test;
From the sharp hurt of sorrow none is spared.
And when it comes, God knows the hour is best.

Today's Talk

TASTE

A machine needs constant adjusting. But the most wonderful machine in the world, your own body, gets little adjusting from time to time.

Your mental and moral tastes need to be zealously adjusted every day. Do this, and you will be surprised at the added interest in all that you do.

Out of the dull routine will rise new and attractive opportunities you never dreamed existed.

Your taste can be cultivated. Your taste for fine literature, for art, for the great beauties that exist all about you, for companionship—each is the result of selection.

Your tastes advertise to all about you exactly what you are. They tag you as tho you were on exhibition.

Find out a man's tastes and you know whether you want him for a friend or associate.

And how delicately may a taste be adjusted.

A taste for noble things; for a courageous course of conduct, for the doing of work that is useful beyond your own immediate gain, lies within your power to cultivate.

And the more you give in time to this training of self, the higher you will rise.

Once clear a path thru your brain for a thought, and each succeeding thought gathers up and takes with it what has gone before.

Refined and beautiful tastes will lift you as nothing else can.

CITIES SEEK ODD FELLOWS CONVENTION

Cincinnati, Sept. 18.—Only routine work consumed the session of the independent order of Odd Fellows this morning at their ninth annual convention which opened here yesterday with more than 46,000 visitors present.

A spirited contest has begun between Washington D. C. and Jacksonville Fla., for the centenary convention next year.

A recommendation embodied in the opening address by Grand Sir Lucian J. Eastin of St. Joseph, Mo., is that one city be made a permanent seat for conventions of the order. An elaborate national temple, as a memorial or home for aged members, was suggested.

The society of Rebekahs are in attendance with the Odd Fellows.

COURT NEWS

Three On Trial

The case of the State of Ohio against Herman Saylor, Argus Saylor, and Lee Grith was begun in Common Pleas Court Tuesday morning with initial efforts to seat a jury.

The entire morning was consumed in empaneling the box with indications that the case would last at least two days. The trio of defendants was indicted by the grand jury on charges of rape with consent on behalf of a minor girl, L. T. Marshall assisting Prosecutor J. K. Williamson in presenting the case and Attorneys M. A. Broadstone and F. L. Johnson represent the defendants.

Four Granted Divorces

Four actions for divorce have been granted the plaintiff in Common Pleas Court while a fifth has been dismissed. William Fowler has been granted divorce from Marie Fowler on the grounds of gross neglect of duty. The case of Elizabeth Botorff against James H. Botorff has been dismissed for want of prosecution without prejudice and without final record. Willie C. Harner has been granted a divorce from Charles Harner on the grounds of gross neglect of duty. Ellen M. Taylor has been granted a divorce from James H. Taylor on the grounds of wilful absence. William Henry has been granted a divorce from Rhea Henry on the grounds of wilful absence of more than three years.

Wants Duties Made Clear

T. W. Trehan, as administrator of the estate of John Koogler, deceased has filed suit in Common Pleas Court against Thomas Koogler and others to get the direction and judgment of the court in settling the estate.

The petition alleges Christina Koogler died intestate leaving $7,338.08 to her husband, John Koogler, an appraisal of whose estate since his death showed property valued at $13,500.89. Heirs of Christina Koogler now claim a share in the distribution. L. T. Marshall is attorney for the plaintiff.

FARM NEWS OF GREENE COUNTY

COUNTY AGENT SUGGESTS RULES FOR CORN SEED SELECTION AND STORAGE METHODS

After stressing the importance of field selection of seed corn, as the result of recent early frosts, County Farm Bureau Agent Ford S. Prince, is submitting rules for the selection of the corn for seed, and methods of storage.

The following points cover the essentials of good seed corn, according to Mr. Prince: first, an adapted variety well selected; second, viable vigorous growing seed, and third, proper grading to insure even planting. The question of the best variety is a local problem because of the difference in soil and climatic conditions throughout Ohio. There are no two or three varieties, that are the best all over the state.

Having selected a variety, the next step to consider is how to obtain good seed. In general, three methods of choosing selected seed corn are practiced in this state. They are named in order of their desirability: first, selection from standing stalks, when the corn is ripening, with immediate storage of the seed; second selection at husking time with immediate storage, and third, selection from the crib before planting.

Under all conditions, seed corn should be dried out as easily as possible, according to Mr. Prince. The time of drying has a direct relation, not only to the germination sets, but also to the yield.

"The chances of getting good seed corn are much better if it is selected from standing stalks while they are ripening, rather than at husking time," said Mr. Prince. "The chances of getting it dried properly are better. There are other points in favor of field selection of seed corn. When we go into a corn field, just before it is ready to harvest, we will find, if the variety grown is adapted to our conditions, plants, on which both ears and stalks are dead ripe, plants, that are green while the ears ripen, and plants, which are entirely green. On a normal, health stalk, the ear matures while the leaves and stalks are still green. Seed corn should be selected from such stalks. We can select early maturing ears, if it seems desirable. In many cases the plants did not fully mature but where both stalk and ear die early, died from disease or injury of some kind. Avoid all stalks that are smutty, all down stalks, all stalks with broken shanks, etc. In other words, avoid all stalks that do not look right. Keep this motto in mind, 'select well developed ears from healthy plants.'

"There are a few minor points to which attention should be given,"

Mr. Prince said. "Seed corn should be selected from stalks that bear their ears at a convenient height. It is better to select ears, that are hanging down, rather than ears the tips which point directly up.

"The proper time to select seed from the field is a busy time. Well developed ears from healthy stalks must be selected as rapidly as possible. There is no time to carefully look over each ear. Two or three times as many ears as are needed should be selected. It takes about 15 ears of corn to plant one acre. It should be possible for any man or boy to select seed corn enough to plant 20 acres in half a day."

President Coolidge May Have New Cobbler

Twenty years ago in Northampton, Mass., a little boy of eight was struggling to get an education. Born deaf, he could utter only a few words. For three years Miss Grace Goodhue, his teacher, worked hard with this boy. She is now Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, wife of the President of the United States, and the boy is Chandler Thompson, a Los Angeles, Cal. cobbler, who has offered to make all the shoes of the Coolidge family if they will accept.

Have You Ever Built a Grate Fire?

Just as the grate fire must have paper, kindling and coal, so the gasoline you use must have three heat-producing elements to give you the best results from your motor. These elements are (1) a light, highly-volatile portion ("paper") to insure quick starting. (2) As wide as possible a range of increasingly heavy portions (the "kindling") to provide smooth acceleration and clean burning, and (3) A heavy portion ("coal") to develop great heat and power.

Red Crown Gasoline has long been famous for its complete chain of boiling points. It meets every requirement of a perfect year-round motor fuel.

It always has the heat power and range necessary to efficient, economical motor operation under all the varying conditions of weather, engine speed and load. It is always available at more than 450 Standard Service Stations anywhere in Ohio and at many stores and garages as well.

5 Grades Polarine Motor Oils

Polarine Motor Oils are supplied in five grades to insure correct lubrication of every type of motor. Polarine Transmission Lubricants and Greases provide perfect lubrication of all transmission units. And the Polarine Chart of Recommendations is a quick, sure guide to the proper grade for every part of your car.

WILMINGTON LOOKS TO HAVE REAL CLAIM ON PIGSKI NHONORS

With assurance that Don Fuller, crack halfback on last year's football team, would be back in school this week, hopes were brightened regarding the success of the Central High eleven this fall.

Fuller left school last fall after an injury forced him to the bench. Before his retirement however he made a name for himself on the blue and white eleven and was considered one of the best backfield men for his size on the squad.

Coach "Puss" Burgner is working his charges hard for the initial game with Wilmington September 28 at Cox Field. Burgner not only had the boys working after school last week, but he gave them the first dose of scrimmage Friday and repeated the treatment Saturday morning. The mentor realizes that if a winning eleven is to be shaped out of material on hand there is no time to be lost, and he is prepared to work the athletes overtime to prime them for the opening combat.

Wilmington offers a real threat this year. According to Coach Black, only three letter men were lost from last year's squad by graduation. The locals have not met the Quakers for two years and beyond reports of the touted prowess of Black's performers, have little idea of the proposition they will run up against in the opener.

The three men who graduated at Wilmington formed the bulwark of the line. Dalton and Beckett were tackles and Montgomery a guard. In spite of this fact Black will be able to throw a team composed of entirely experienced players with a veteran backfield into the game this fall. When Wilmington lifts the curtain here next week, the team will probably lineup as follows: Peele, lb; Weltz, lb; Nosker, lg; South, rg; Stingley, rt; Tretts, re; Scott, qb; Barnes, lbh; Hill, rmb; Bonecutter, fb.

Besides these athletes Coach Black has three full teams working out and his lineup is subject to change at any minute. Coach Burgner also has a likely lot of youngsters trying to earn their spurs in the grid game and if they can be seasoned in time for the opener, which will take work and lots of it, the Central High eleven should be able to capably cope with the veteran Clinton County outfit.

PASTOR OPPOSED TO LEAGUE NOW

"I went to Europe pro-League of Nations and I came back Anti-League" said the Rev. John Alvin Orr, pastor of one of the largest United Presbyterian churches in Pittsburgh, addressing a congregation at the Reformed Presbyterian Church in Cedarville, Sunday morning.

The Rev. Mr. Orr recently returned home after a summer spent in England, France, Spain, Germany, Holland, Belgium, and Switzerland, with his two sons, and is now visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Orr in Cedarville.

European people are in a war-like frame of mind. They think war. They are filled with the idea of gain, of conquest. They are unable to understand American idealism. The plan of giving something for nothing they look upon with suspicion, the Rev. Mr. Orr said.

SLAYERS OF TWO MEN IN CHICAGO ARE BEING HUNTED

Chicago, Sept. 18.—The strongest drive against illicit liquor rings since the Volstead law became effective was combined here today with a hunt for the men who last night shot and killed two alleged members of the notorious O'Donnell "beer syndicate" on a crowded Chicago corner. Seven men were in cells today in the quest for the slayers. The slain men were George McEghan and "Spot" Bucher, two of the most trusted lieutenants of Steve O'Donnell.

The police theory is that the two men were shot down by gangsters from New York operating under the direction of a notorious rum runner who came here from that city and who has been at war with the O'Donnell syndicate.

DEAD BABY MAY BE INFANT SOUGHT
SINCE KIDNAPING

Morgantown, W. Va., Sept. 18.—A one-armed gypsy, traveling in a motorized Romany van, is being sought throughout the mountain regions as the man who left to die in a hospital here a baby which tallied in every way with the description of Lillian McKenzie, the four-months-old baby stolen from New York five weeks ago.

The whole country, summoned by wire and wireless when the baby was stolen from in front of a 10-cent store in Manhattan, is again asked by the police to be on the watch out for the gypsy wagon. The man is accompanied by a woman.

The pair came to the Monongahela hospital last Saturday evening and promised to return Sunday morning. They gave no name or address. The baby was evidently in need of immediate medical attention, and the physicians took it in. It died Sunday. No trace has been found of the man and woman who left it. The baby tallied in every way with the description of the McKenzie child, unusually large head, emaciated body, blue eyes, brown hair and about seven pounds in weight.

The police are awaiting the arrival of Mrs. Peter McKenzie, the mother and a detective from New York, before ordering disposal of the body.

The hospital physicians said the woman had declared the baby was ill of summer complaint, but that they found the child was suffering from weeks of under nourishment and was emaciated. The motor van bore a New York state license and the man said he was from Syracuse, N. Y., and a veteran of the world war. He said, according to the hospital authorities, that the woman was not his wife, but that he had "picked her up" on the road.

dealing with shabby suits or dresses that are no longer in style. They may be given away. They may be sold to the "Old Clothing" man, usually for next to nothing. Or they may be made over.

To make a dress out of an old suit requires skillful surgery, but the model shown in the sketch illustrates one way in which the transformation may be made. Here the trick lies in the application of the trimming, the embroidered bands, hiding its darts in the rest of the jacket. Or if preferred, several pleats from shoulder to hem may be used. If the sleeve of the dress was fitted and is worn at the elbow, it may be cut off above the elbow, and finished with a wide, loose cuff made

MOTHER FEARS THE WORST

New York, Sept. 18.—Sobbing and fearful of what awaits her in the morgue at Morgantown, W. Va., Mrs. Ellen MacKenzie, whose baby was kidnapped here five weeks ago, left here to view the body of the infant that died in a hospital there. Mrs. MacKenzie said she feared it was only too true that the child was hers, as the physical description not only fitted Lillian, but the dead child also wore a blue and white sweater such as worn by Lillian when she was stolen.

quarters that the Ku Klux Klan scored a coup in getting records of the organization out of the state. According to the report records and secret files were loaded on an airplane and carried outside the state. The military court of inquiry, it is said, expected to seize these records.

The military court, at its opening session, interrogated Campbell Russell, former chairman of the state corporation commission, and bitter enemy of Governor Walton. Russell, it was who precipitated the first physical clash since the troops came to the capital. He was circulating hand-bills picturing the governor as a man drunk with power and military rule. He was knocked down by A. R. Clark, son of a former police chief here. It was understood he was brought before the court to ascertain whether his circular would tend to incite riot and inflame public opinion.

A WIFE'S STORY

By Jane Phelps

THE OLD STORY REPEATED
Chapter XXX

"I shall be only too glad to leave here," I replied, "if we can afford a better place. But don't let's get into debt again, Paul. I have worked so hard to pay all those bills you left. I never dreamed we owed them until after you had gone, then they swooped down upon me like a swarm of flies."

"I won't live in such a hole," he replied, ignoring what I had said about debts, although he flushed a little. "We'll find a decent place to live at once."

"How much money have you, Paul?" I trembled with apprehension as I asked the question, knowing he would not like it. I hated too to spoil our first evening together by talking of money, but my anxiety was too great to let me be careful.

"I hoped you had gotten over that habit of asking questions, I will take care of the finance question. We will find a place to live tomorrow," Paul replied.

Then we talked of other things, the children at cetera until I was almost happy again, almost forgot my worries in the joy of having their father home once more. Paul was so handsome, so thoroughly a man of the world—a prosperous world in looks—that I let myself drift through the rest of the evening hoping things would in some way righten themselves for us.

It was not easy to find a place to live. Rents had gone up enormously. Even the smallest apartment in a good locality was much more than our house in the country had been. It was three days before Paul told me he had found a suitable place, to get ready to move.

In the midst of my packing there came a knock on the door. Thinking it was the landlady I called "come in" and in stepped Dave Logan, I simply stood staring at him. My hair was covered with a towel, I had on a big enveloping apron.

"Well, haven't you a welcome for me?" he asked smiling.

"Excuse me," I stammered, whisk-

ing off the towel and placing a chair for him. "We are moving. As you see I am dressed for work."

"Where's Paul?" he asked as he waited for me to sit.

"He had to go down town on business."

"Leaving you to pack alone..."

"Oh, there's not much to pack! I rented these rooms furnished."

"What have you been doing while Paul was away? But there's no need to ask. Living in such quarters! Why didn't you tell me? And you have suffered. Your face shows it. Didn't you know I was your friend, would, help you?"

"I couldn't—ask help. I got along very well."

"I saw he didn't believe me and after a few moments he left me after I had given him our new address."

"I shall see you often now I hope, Ruby," he said. I flushed at his familiar use of my name, but as he seemed unaware of anything out of place I made no remonstrance.

The five room apartment into which we moved seemed a palace compared to the rooms in which I had been living. Paul told me Logan had vouchered for him with the agent. There was also an elevator in the house, much to Joan's delight.

"I won't be ashamed to have people come here," she said.

"It's no disgrace to be poor," I told her. "But debt, living beyond one's means, is a disgrace."

"Well now that dad is home I hope we will live like decent people. I'm awfully proud of dad. He's so good-looking, so young. Then with the cruelty of the very young, Joan added "He looks years and years younger than you do."

"He is seven years older," I told her.

"Well, no-one would believe it. You'd better brace up now he's home. Get some new clothes and stop looking like a frump."

"My thoughts rushed back to what Paul had once said:

"When a woman allows herself to look like a frump she can't complain if her husband finds her unattractive."

I forgot to correct Joan, and she, thinking she had hurt me was quickly apologetic.

"It's true, Mother, if I shouldn't have said it. You are so pretty too, prettier than any of the other girls' mothers when you are dressed up."

CALIFORNIA TOWNS WIPED OUT BY FIRE

MARTIAL LAW IS CONTINUED OVER OKLAHOMA STATE

Governor Makes "Daring Invasion of Enemy Country"

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 18.—The State Legislature of Oklahoma will assemble in special session either late this week or early next week regardless of military or other edict or environment. This statement is made upon unimpeachable authority.

Muskogee, Okla., Sept. 18.—After again hurling his threat of undying warfare at the Ku Klux Klan in Oklahoma County, the first to be placed under martial law in the fight which he has now extended state-wide, Governor J. C. Walton today returned to Oklahoma City. In some quarters the governor's visit was described as "a daring invasion of enemy country."

The governor appeared last night before the Oklahoma Federation of Labor at Henryetta, coal mining center where state troops were employed for the first time with the announced intention of stopping floggings.

Peaceful Oklahoma City, scarcely heeding the political upheaval which at first was taken "with a grain of salt" awake this morning to face another restriction—the indefinite suspension of the annual state fair, which was to begin Saturday.

"I believe the gatherings at the state fair will hamper operation of martial law," Governor Walton declared today.

"Furthermore, I am going to use the guard to confiscate food and take it to farmers in Marshall and Carter Counties, where they are literally starving to death on account of the summer drought."

Postponing of the state fair will mean loss of many thousands of dollars and disappointment to thousands of exhibitors who already have exhibits on the grounds brought here from many southwestern states, according to the fair commissioners.

Bitter denunciation, however, was not heard. The people of Oklahoma were quiet. They appeared to be more or less stunned.

"The fight on the Klan is no longer a religious affair," the governor said in his speech. "The organization is trying to control the government of the entire state. It is in open anarchy and rebellion and must be put down."

Armed guards stand at the great doors of the chambers of the senate and house of representatives, bayonets fixed. No one is allowed to pass. That is to prevent, physically, if necessary, an extraordinary session of the legislature in an attempt to impeach the governor.

Reinforcements of national guardsmen are being brought in. No reason was given for this at headquarters. But the military shows indications of uneasiness over the tenacity of the situation here, growing out of martial law. Machine guns command the streets, bristling from public buildings. During guard mounts there was some jeering from spectators.

Plans for emergency mobilization at any point in the city have been drawn. Guardsmen are stationed at the siren of the local gas corporation. Five blasts of the whistle will be the signal for all units to mobilize at central points and warn that trouble has broken out.

One of the outstanding developments was the successful effort of Mayor Cargill to have Chief of Police Frazier and his assistants reinstated. The mayor had threatened to withdraw the entire police force and leave the military to police the city alone. He ordered the police to walk out. But Col. W. S. Key, commander of the troops here, ordered Frazier reinstated, under supervision of Captain N. J. Moore, military dictator of civil police.

Militia in Control. The militia continues to exercise strict supervision over every branch of the government in the city and county. The power of the sheriff is nullified.

Judge George W. Clark, presiding judge of the district court, did not organize a grand jury. Instead he swore in the jurors as a petit jury, for trial of civil cases alone.

An artillery unit of the national guard, stationed at Enid, was ordered mobilized and will entrain for Oklahoma City. These troops will be stationed at capital hill and the big guns will guard the state house.

Full pressure of martial law is being felt in this city. Regular street car service was ordered stopped from 11:30 p. m. to 5 a. m. Streets must be cleared of pedestrians at midnight. Persons finding it necessary to be out after that hour must obtain a military pass or be subject to arrest and court martial. Main roads entering the city are being patrolled.

Reports reached military head-

WEDDING POSTPONED TO GIVE RELIEF AT CORFU

Stephen E. Lowe and Miss Emma Wood.

Cries of relief as a result of the bombardment of Corfu by the Italian fleet caused the postponement of the wedding of Col. Stephen E. Lowe, of St. Louis, Mo., Near East Relief Director at Corfu, where a great asylum for Greek and Armenian refugees has been opened in a palace that once belonged to ex-Kaiser Wilhelm, to Miss Emma

Wood, of Sarnia, Ont., relief nurse at the orphanage, which is located at Achilleon, a few miles from Corfu. All the children from another shelled orphanage in the old fort were removed there. Colonel Lowe and Miss Wood had planned to sail the same day for Athens to be married, but gave up their plans temporarily to attend the wounded.

POLITICAL POT STARTS BOILING AS PEPPER AND REED SILENT

Washington, Sept. 18.—The refusal of two such stalwart Republican regulars as Senator George Wharton Pepper and Senator David A. Reed to lend their endorsements to the Coolidge candidacy for 1924 had every political tongue in Washington wagging at both ends today.

Since Calvin Coolidge moved into the White House some six weeks ago the capital has become used to seeing prominent Republicans make pilgrimages to Washington and climb aboard the Coolidge band wagon.

Consequently the carefully prepared statement of the two Pennsylvania senators, issued after they had left the president's office, stating they could neither endorse Mr. Coolidge or Governor Gifford Pinchot at this early stage of the game, struck a decidedly discordant note in what otherwise has been a steady song of Republican harmony.

"If it be true," said their statement, "as rumored, that President Coolidge will consent to be a candidate for the nomination, and if it be true, as likewise rumored, that Governor Pinchot has presidential aspirations a situation will develop upon which a senator from Pennsylvania ought not to express himself prematurely, or otherwise than after the most serious reflection."

Nothing could be more guarded or leave the door more widely opened to future developments.

The situation is further complicated by the fact that Senator Pepper himself is known to harbor presidential aspirations.

Chief interest today centered in the reasons which prompted the Pennsylvania senators to thus announce their attitude at this particular time.

Various reasons were assigned, all of which were conjectural, as both Pepper and Reed refused to add anything to their enigmatical statement. Among the opinions heard as to the significance of the move were these:

1—A warning that President Coolidge is not to be allowed to romp away with the nomination uncontested.

2—A shrewd political move, designed to invite Governor Pinchot to either affirm or deny that he has "presidential aspirations."

3—A notice to Governor Pinchot that the two senators from Pennsylvania are going to be heard from in case he attempts to carry a Pennsylvania delegation with him to the Chicago convention.

4—An invitation to other Republican aspirants that "the bars are down" and that Pennsylvania is on the fence and not committed to any one.

It is recalled that the first signs of insurgency against a second term

TO DECIDE WHETHER TRIAL WILL BE HELD

Columbus, Sept. 18.—Whether William G. Benham, president, and Dwight Harrison, vice president, and secretary of the defunct R. L. Dollins company of Ohio are to be prosecuted in Franklin County on grounds of misappropriation and misrepresentation will probably be known late today when the grand jury is expected to announce its decision.

The result of the grand jury's investigation is also expected to show whether or not lesser officials and directors of subsidiary concerns are to be prosecuted.

FINAL ATTEMPT TO STOP WARD TRIAL FAILURE

Motion to Dismiss First Degree Murder Charge Is Denied

Courthouse, White Plains, N. Y., Sept. 18.—The final attempt to prevent the trial of Walter E. Ward on a charge of murdering Clarence M. Peters, Haverhill, Mass., sailor, failed today when Supreme Court Justice Robert F. Wagner denied a motion of Ward's counsel to dismiss the first degree murder charge and ordered the trial to proceed.

Ward, his wife and brother, Ralph accompanied by defense attorneys entered court early. Previously Mrs. Ward had visited with her husband at the sheriff's office in the jail.

She was attired in a one piece tailored blue dress, wearing furs and a small hat. She sat beside her husband, holding his hand at intervals during the morning.

Every seat was filled a half hour before the trial.

Women predominated in the crowd. Many were young girls. State police stood guard at all doors.

Duncan M. Rose, the first witness, told of finding Peters' body. He was questioned minutely as to its position and condition.

CONFERENCE CONTINUED

Cleveland, Sept. 18.—An unexpected rush of business caused the northeast Ohio conference of the Methodist Episcopal church to continue its sessions today. It was hoped however, as the five hundred ministers reconvened at the Lakewood Methodist Episcopal church this morning that the last matter might be settled and the list of appointments in the ten districts read aloud noon.

Wife Asks Governor To Effect Husband's Release

Dayton, O., Sept. 18.—A broken-hearted but still hopeful wife today is hoping that Governor Donahay will pardon her husband, so that he may take his place in life, from which he was snatched by the dictates of society, three or four weeks ago.

John Sadders is the man who was torn from the side of his wife by officers of the law, who told him that the demands of society had not been satisfied, and that he must return to the Ohio Penitentiary to finish his life term for the murder of Harry House, a saloonist, in 1906.

Sadders and two others were convicted a number of years ago. All three went to prison. The two others were pardoned. Sadders one day had a chance and walked away. He returned to Montgomery County, lived an upright life, met the woman, who later became his wife, and after he had told her all married her.

Both worked hard and established a little home in Salem, where both were very happy. Neighbors suspected not the past of Mr. Sadders, who was industrious and a good citizen.

Then came the denouement. Mrs. Sadders swore then and there to exert every effort to effect the release of her husband, and the plea she carried up to Governor Donahay, late yesterday is the first.

Columbus, O., Sept. 18.—Governor Donahay has referred to the State Board of Clemency the plea of Mrs. John Sadders, Dayton, for the release from the penitentiary of her husband, serving a life sentence following conviction of murdering Harry House, saloonist, in 1906, it was announced today at the Governor's office.

FRANCE TO ACCORD LOANS TO NATIONS

Paris, Sept. 17.—New loans, in the amount of 800,000,000 francs, in addition to 200,000,000 already granted, will be accorded to the countries of the little entente by France for the purchase of munitions and material for national defense. The loans will be divided between Poland, Yugoslavia and Roumania, and will in all likelihood be expended in France for the purchase of munitions. Poland and Yugoslavia already have been the recipients of similar loans from France. Hungary may possibly be accorded permission to launch loans in the French market.

NIGHT FLYING TEST DELAYED BY WEATHER

Washington, Sept. 16.—The scheduled test flight of the dirigible ZR-1 from Lakehurst, N. J., to Washington, has been postponed until Saturday because of unfavorable weather conditions, it was announced at the Navy Department today.

Naval officers at Lakehurst reported to the navy bureau of aeronautics that danger would be encountered in taking the big ship out of its hangar today because of the gusty winds.

SPANISH MAYORS ARE PLACED UNDER ARREST TUESDAY

Madrid, Sept. 18.—The military directory today ordered the arrest of virtually all the mayors in Catalonia. Nearly all are friends of President General Primo Rivera, head of the revolutionary government and captain general of Catalonia.

Two generals have been appointed to supervise the prosecution of former foreign minister Alba, who has fled to Biarritz.

Contrary reports were current regarding Senor Alba. One was that he had sent a letter to General Primo Rivera saying he would never return because he believed Spain would become a country like Mexico, with frequent revolutions. Another was that he had promised to come back if granted a speedy and impartial trial.

A. P. Moore, the American ambassador, believes the new government will achieve success. Spanish circles quote him as saying Spain has not had such a strong government in 25 years.

King Alfonso has signed the decree establishing 45,000 somatenes, an organization similar to the Fascisti in Italy or the home guards established in the United States in war time.

ITALY FEELS EARTHQUAKE

GERMAN-SWISS FRONTIER CLOSED BY SWITZERLAND; TROUBLE FEARED

LOCAL MAN ON LIST SLATED FOR PAROLE

Lester Lewis, 34, Xenia, colored, sent to the penitentiary about a year ago for grand larceny, will be paroled October 1. He is one of 98 prisoners who will be paroled or given conditional release soon, according to word from Columbus, Tuesday.

The State Board of Clemency examined 185 applicants for clemency. Of the prisoners paroled, more than half were ordered to leave the state immediately upon their release. Many cases were continued to the 1924 meeting of the board.

Lewis was sent to the penitentiary for his part in the robbery of a railroad box car at Yellow Springs some time ago when a number of hides were stolen. Lewis escaped after the affair but was finally located in Michigan where county authorities placed him under arrest and returned him here.

BREAKS SPEED RECORDS.
Mitchell Field, L. L. Sept. 18.—Lieutenant Al Williams, a navy flier today broke all speed records known to aviation.

Over a one kilometer course he averaged 247.50 miles an hour for four trips and one section of the flight was rushing through the air at a rate of 266 miles an hour, officials at the field declared.

ITALY EXPLAINS FIUME SITUATION

Paris, Sept. 18.—Italy addressed a semi-official note to the French foreign office today explaining that the appointment of General Giardino as military governor of Fiume was for the purpose of "preventing the usurpation of the government by irregular bands."

The note pointed out that the status of Fiume as an independent city was not changed by the appointment of General Giardino. The Italian legation at Fiume remains as before.

FOREST BLAZES THREATEN OTHER CITIES; BERKELEY SUFFERS GREATEST LOSS

Conflagrations are Raging in 20 Counties of the State and Thousands of Persons are Battling Flames in Many Sections

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 18.—With six northern California towns and cities either completely devastated or damaged by fire resulting from forest and grass blazes and a dozen others endangered, thousands of fire fighters, including soldiers and marines today were endeavoring to check the most disastrous series of conflagrations in years.

The fires are raging twenty counties. The heaviest damage was at Berkeley where the property loss was estimated today by the city manager at $5,000,000.

The towns that burned in the path of the flames include Woodacre, Marin County; Cavedale, Sonoma County; Eldorado, Eldorado County; Forest Knolls, Marin County, and Boyes Springs, Sonoma County, in addition to a large section of Berkeley.

More than a dozen towns, big summer resorts, between 50 and 100 fine summer homes and scores of stock ranches, vineyards and other Sonoma County show places have gone up in flames and thousands of acres of timber and brush land burned over.

Among the towns reported early today to be endangered by the blaze are Fairfax, San Anselmo, Ross, Lagunitas, Bolinas, Ignacio and Novato, Marin County; Guerneville and Sonoma City in Sonoma County; Fairfield in Solano County and Diamond Springs in Eldorado County.

Among the summer resorts wiped out which were nationally known were Agua Calientes, El Verano and Boyes Springs.

A pall of smoke today hung over the entire state from Santa Barbara north. Near Santa Barbara a great forest fire which already has burned over 100,000 acres was being fought.

North of San Francisco every available means of communication brought appeals for aid from stricken stations. Bolinas used wireless to broadcast an appeal for 500 soldiers to aid in fighting the flames menacing the little town. Wire communication was crippled and the full extent of the destruction may not be known for days. Hope was held out today that the fires may be checked as the high wind which reached a velocity at some places of 90 miles an hour yesterday was greatly abated.

In Marin and Contra Costa Counties marines and soldiers joined in fighting the fires and it is probable that other detachments will be sent today to threatened points. Regular and national guard troops were on duty also in the burned area at Berkeley.

Dozens of narrow escapes from flames were reported in northern California. When the flames swept down the Sonoma valley John Cadral saved the lives of his wife and three children by lowering them into a well.

Burning of railroad trestles delayed aid sent to Boyes Springs from San Francisco, but motor apparatus reached the place.

In Napa County 150 tubercular patients were hurried from sanitariums endangered by the fire. In that county alone damage was estimated at nearly $250,000.

The most menacing situations however, today existed in Sonoma and

DECLARES STRIKE IN EAST IS ILLEGAL

New York, Sept. 18.—Declaring the strike illegal and without sanction by the international union, George L. Berry, president of the International Printing Pressmen's Union of North America today voiced the determination of the union to "execute and publish" the newspapers of New York City.

New York City awoke to find its morning paper missing from the doorstep.

A strike of 2,500 members of the Newspaper Web Pressmen's union, local 25, tied up practically every daily in the greater city. An exception was the New York Call, socialist.

The walkout came as a culmination of 18 months of bitter strife over wages and working conditions. It was unexpected, however, as far as the public was concerned.

DISCUSS VIADUCT REPAIRING
City commissioners with engineers W. F. Foster and Ed Grabbe, of Dayton, investigated the flooring in the Monroe street viaduct over the Pennsylvania Railroad Monday afternoon. Loose paving blocks on the slopes, it is said, will demand repairs or new flooring. The question will be decided at the next meeting of the commission.

Marin Counties. In both counties all able bodied men have been appealed to, to aid in fighting the flames. All of the fires sweeping Sonoma county were reported today under control. The damage in the famous Valley of the Moon country was estimated today at $1,000,000 and that in the Russian river section at $500,000.

The reported loss of five lives at Cavedale was still unconfirmed today.

MINERS TO RETURN TO WORK; PEACE PACT IS NOW RATIFIED

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 18.—The 155,000 workers of the anthracite region who have been idle since Sept. 1 will return to the mines Wednesday morning.

The two-year peace pact, reached 10 days ago by the union chiefs and operators at Harrieburg with Governor Pinchot, was ratified at the tri-district convention of the miners here. In the convention hall, where 500 delegates representing every local in the hard coal belt were seated, there rose but 20 voices in objection to ratification. This little group represented some of the day men employed about the collieries, who are not satisfied with the 10 per cent increase.

The tri-district convention moved rapidly after it was called to order by Rinaldo Cappellini, president of District No. 1. Thomas Kennedy, head of the Hazelton district, was elected temporary chairman. He read the reports on the agreement reached by the miners' leaders and operators at Harrieburg.

Mr. Kennedy then referred to John L. Lewis, international president, who was seated on the platform. "Foch, Joffre and Pershing led the great allied armies to victory," said Mr. Kennedy. "We have Foch, Joffre and Pershing combined in President Lewis, who has led the miners to the greatest victory in their history. Lewis is the greatest Roman of them all."

FLYING FIELDS TO ENTER AIRPLANES

Dayton, O., Sept. 18.—McCook and Wilbur Wright fields will be well represented at the St. Louis air races, October 1 to 3 inclusive. The two Curtiss biplanes, having been put into condition have been shipped to St. Louis. The U. S. Air Services pins its faith on these two ships, to cop the prize in spite of the claims set up by naval pilots.

The bullets will be driven by Lieutenants Miller of Crissey Field and Lieutenant Corkhill, Brooks Field. Their alternate pilots are Lieutenant Beau of Bolling Field and Lieutenant Harry Mills, Wilbur Wright Field.

McCook Field will send a display of airplanes, showing the advance made in the science of aviation since it was invented by Wright Brothers.

HEAVY EARTHQUAKE SHOCK IS FELT

Malta, Sept. 18.—A heavy earthquake shock was felt here at 7:30 o'clock this morning. The chief British naval base in the Mediterranean is located on Malta island.

The ground vibrated for several seconds. No casualties were reported but the people were highly alarmed.

Many buildings were shaken including churches that were filled with worshippers. Panic broke out among the congregations.

No serious damage was reported.

MCGANNON DENIED PAROLE
Columbus, Sept. 18.—Appeal for parole of William H. McGannon, former chief justice of the municipal court of Cleveland, serving from one to 10 years in the penitentiary for perjury, was denied by the state board of clemency. In announcing the decision Chairman Price Russell of the board said McGannon's appeal was not definitely denied, but was postponed for 30 days while the board did some further investigating in his case.

WRITES OF TRIP TO WEST AND ALASKA

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Eavey, who have been absent for the last three months on an extended business trip through California and Alaska are expected to arrive home Saturday of this week. They went first to California where Mr. Eavey personally selected the peaches that will be sold by the Eavey Company this season.

After visiting at various points in California Mr. and Mrs. Eavey went to Alaska where Mr. Eavey looked after the buying of the salmon which is packed for the company, in a letter received last week from Mr. Eavey by the employees at the home office, written on board the steamship, "Queen" enroute to Skagway, Alaska, he says:

"A strange, strange land—another world altogether. All day we have been in the midst of ice and snow. This morning we ran within a few feet of a large iceberg. I was asleep so did not see it but there has been much floating ice all day and some of the large glaciers are in this territory. This afternoon we passed the great Muir glacier no one knows how thick but miles in extent. The wind is sure cold when it blows over these icefields but the air is nice and warm when the sun shines—which is seldom. It either rains or snows all the time and the hills are always covered with snow many feet deep.

"Tomorrow we expect to leave the boat for a short trip about one hundred miles north, up into the White-Pass, Yukon, district but will not have time to go as far as Dawson. This is a freight boat and will be loading salmon at Skagway all day so we can go up the White-Pass gold trail.

"We are now tied up at the dock of a canning factory unloading cans. It is on an island covered with ice and snow and nothing else but the factory here. All the help, supplies, etc. are brought up in the spring and stay until the pack is finished. No way to get here but by water; no roads of any kind and no need for any as no one lives here. Only 70,000 people in all this waste land of Alaska, the richest land in the world in natural resources. Untold wealth of fish, timber and mineral, and all virgin territory.

"This morning we were in a gold mine and mine. Rock is taken out of the mountains and crushed and the gold, silver, lead and zinc burned out in a furnace, and then molded into bricks about the size of two packages of 'E' coffee. This weighs about fifty pounds and is worth $35.00.

"All the cables are down so I sent a radio about fish. We will be home about the 22nd. I have learned a lot about salmon that we never hear of at home.

A RESTLESS CONSCIENCE

"Something" Warns You When You Are Putting Rate of Interest Ahead of Safety.

"I get more than five per cent on my money," says Neighbor Jones. "A good, safe investment so far."

Why the "so far?" Because Jones knows, down in his heart, where the limits of absolute safety are set. He knows what precedent, experience and common consent have taught a safe interest return.

When you deposit your money deposit it in conformance with the laws of precedent, experience and common consent and take no chances. Place it where your conscience tells you it is within every boundary of safety.

WOMAN SO ILL COULD NOT WORK

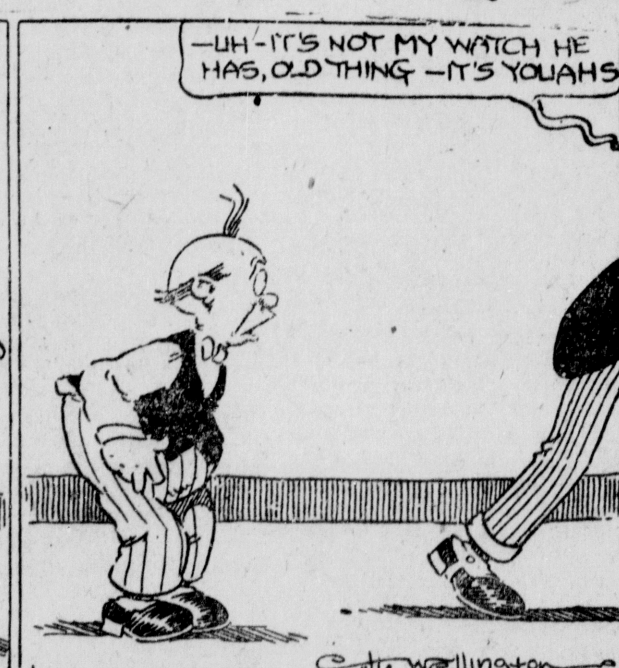

Gained Strength, Weight and Now Doing Own Work, by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

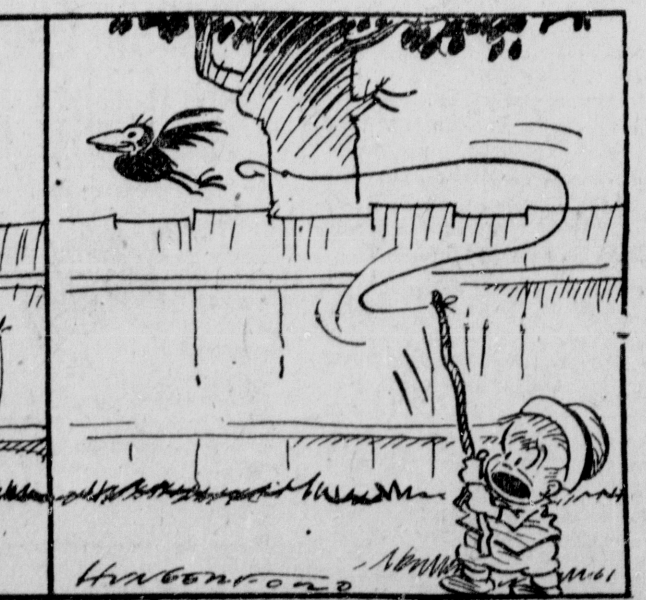

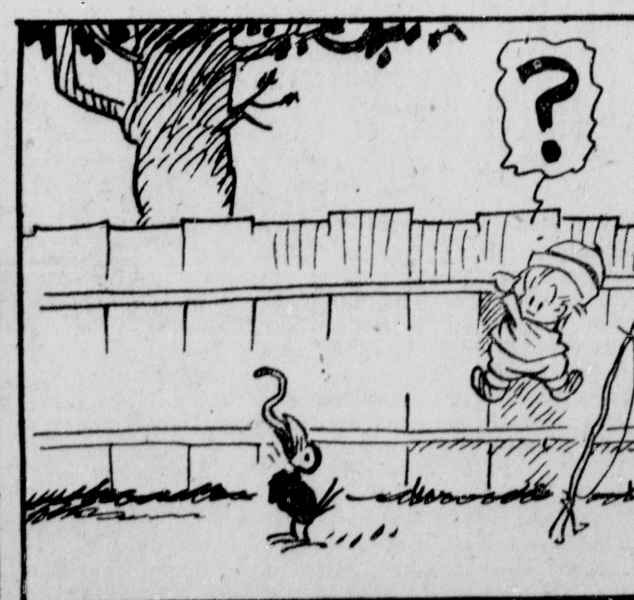

Marion, Ind.—"I was all run-down, nervous and bent over. I could hardly drag around. I let alone do my work. I read some letters in the papers telling what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others and I thought I would try it. Then a man told my husband about his wife and what good it had done her and wanted him to have me try it. I took one bottle and could see what it did for me in a week's time, and when I had taken three bottles I had gained both in strength and weight and was doing my own work. I took it before my last baby was born and it helped me so much. I sure am glad to recommend the Vegetable Compound to any woman who suffers from female ailments, for I know by experience what it can do. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash, also the Liver Pills, too, and think them fine."—Mrs. Wm. Eldridge, 620 E. Grant Street, Marion, Indiana.

A record of nearly fifty years service should convince you of the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

G. O. P. REDUCES SOUTH'S QUOTA FOR CONVENTION.

A reduction of 13 per cent in the number of Southern delegates to the next Republican National Convention, despite an increase from 984 to 1036 in the total number for the entire country, was announced by Chairman Adams.

The States which suffered under the allotment of delegates, made under authority of a resolution adopted by the Chicago convention of 1920, are Georgia, cut from seventeen to nine; Louisiana, from twelve to nine; Mississippi, from twelve to four; South Carolina, from eleven to four; Texas, from twenty-three to seventeen. Florida gained two.

The "Solid South," over whose representation at Republican conventions there has been controversy for many years, culminating in the dissensions of 1912 and simmering ever since, will have only 154 votes in the 1924 convention of 1036 delegates as against 177 votes out of 984 in 1920.

Almost every other State gains two additional votes, the exceptions being those noted. The West is the chief beneficiary of the new apportionment, New England and the Middle Atlantic States holding their own, but losing the preponderance of power they held a generation ago.

New England will have 100 delegates in 1924 as against eighty-seven in 1920; the Middle Atlantic States, 226 against 214; Central States, 218 instead of 208; Middle West, 106 against 98; Northwest, 78 against 70; Southwest 38 against 32; Rocky Mountain States, 60 against 48; Pacific Coast, 56 against 50. The Territories and the District of Columbia remain as before at two delegates each.

Thirty-two delegates were lopped off the representation of five of the most solid states of the solid south. This may help for honesty in the next Republican National Convention in the selection of the candidate. The custom has been, and likely will be continued in modified form now, to use the representation in the convention from states where they practically have no Republican party, for trading purposes, to get the candidate most acceptable to the South. We are glad this shameful practice is to be "cut" this 30 per cent. Many of these states get only four delegates, because under the new rule every State was allowed that number.

"PULQUE" MAKES DRUNK IN MEXICO.

There is a distinct advance in temperance reform throughout Mexico, and much territory is now under prohibition. The government, as represented by President Obregon and Secretaries Dela Huerta and Calles, stand firmly behind this movement. I have a recent letter from the president of the republic in which Obregon writes in characteristic Spanish idiom, in response to my statement in a public address on prohibition in Mexico: "I believe frankly that your prestige as a prophet is not being compromised too much when you state that our tendency is toward prohibition and that at an early date Mexico will enter into that state." More than one Northern State is now largely dry. The State of Oaxaca has taxed the saloons practically out of existence. The minister of education recently placed 1,000 textbooks on "Temperance" in the hands of the teachers of the public schools. In all deeds to land under the new agrarian laws the raising of the maguay plant, out of which intoxicating pulque is made, is prohibited.—Exchange.

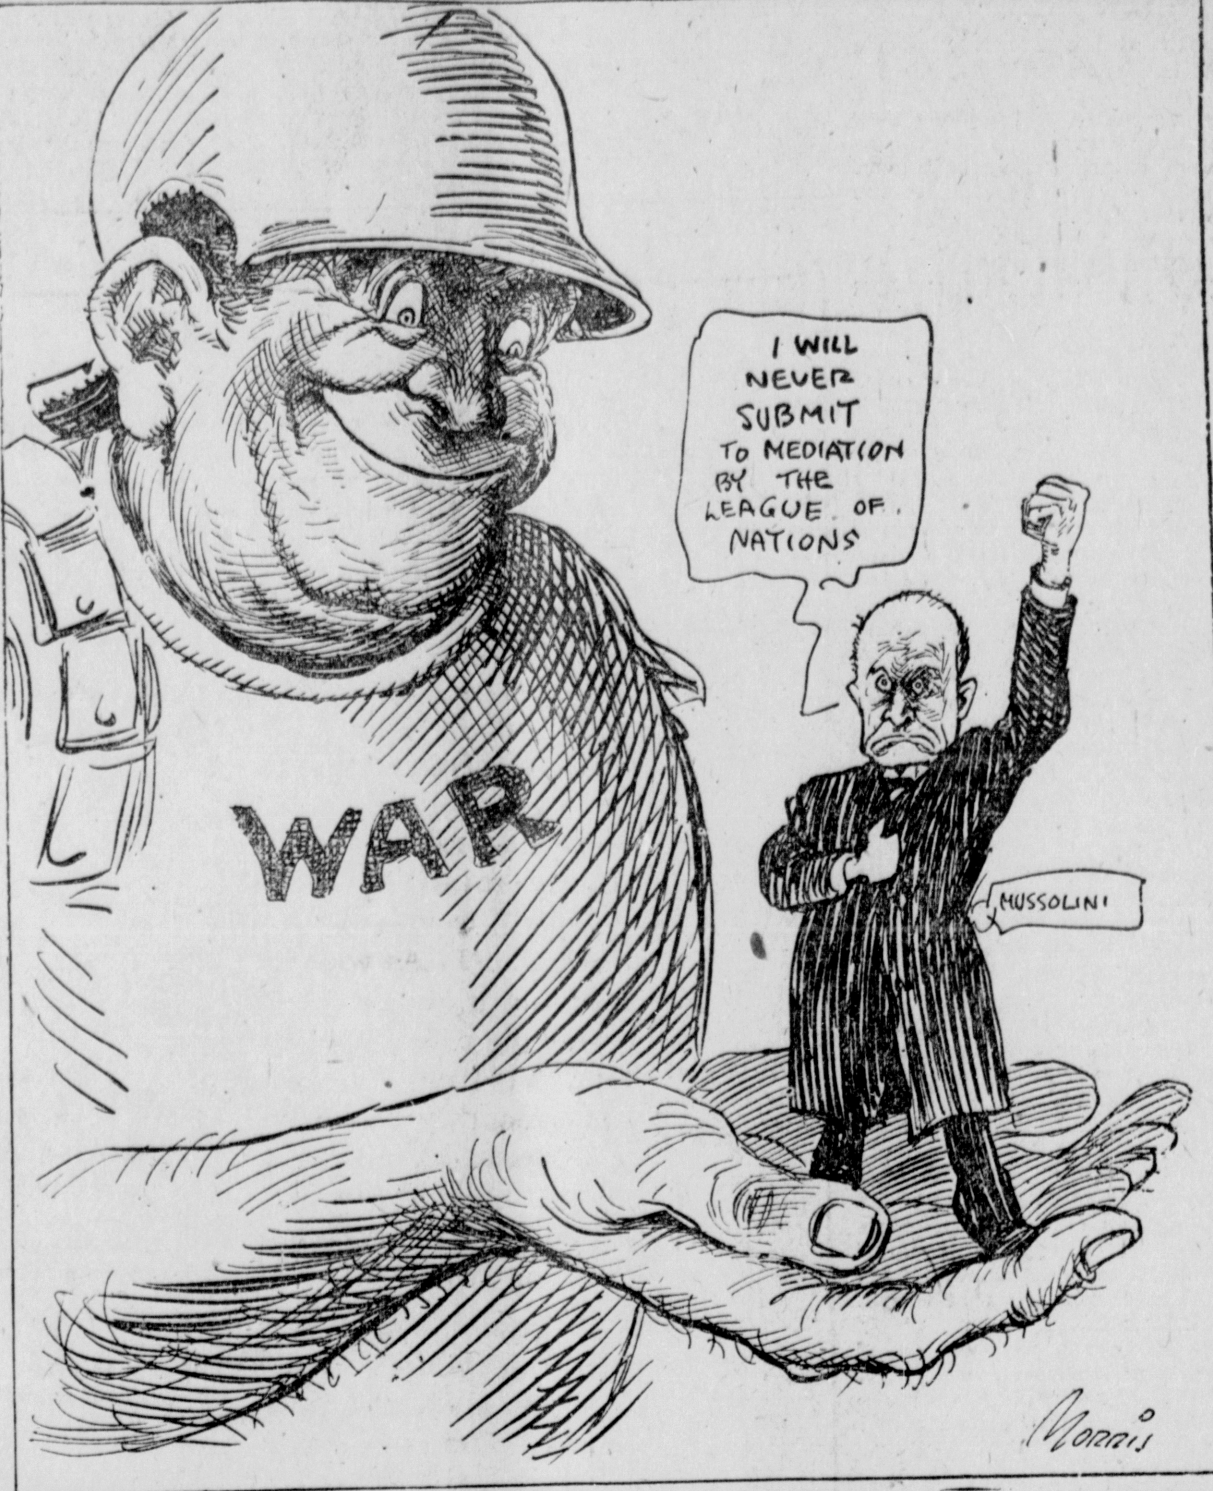

INTERESTING.

There were remarkable coincidences in the lives of Abraham Lincoln and Jefferson Davis. Both were born in Kentucky; Lincoln in 1809, Davis in 1808. Both removed from their native state in childhood, Lincoln to the Northwest, Davis to the Southwest. Lincoln was a Captain of Volunteers and Davis a Second Lieutenant of Regulars in the Black Hawk war of 1832. They began their political careers the same year, 1844, Lincoln being a Presidential Elector for Clay, and Davis for Polk. They were elected to Congress about the same time, 1845 and 1846. They were called to preside over their respective governments the same year and within a few days; Davis, February 8, 1861; Lincoln, March 4, 1861.

Washington, Monroe and Jackson were soldiers in the Revolutionary war; Jackson, W. H. Harrison, Tyler, Taylor, and Buchanan in the war of 1812-15; Lincoln in the Black Hawk war; Taylor, Pierce and Grant in the Mexican war; Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Arthur B. Harrison, and McKinley in the Civil War, and Roosevelt was in the war with Spain. Adams and Jefferson were signers of the Declaration of Independence, and Washington and Madison of the Constitution.

Grant was christened Hiram Ulysses and Cleveland, Stephen Grover. W. H. Harrison was the oldest man elected to the Presidency, and Roosevelt the youngest, Grant being the next youngest by six months. Cleveland was the only President married in the White House, and his second daughter the only resident's child born therein. Monroe's daughter (Mrs. Gouverneur), Tyler's daughter (Mrs. Walker), Grant's daughter (Mrs. Sartoris), Roosevelt's daughter (Mrs. Longworth) and Wilson's daughters, Jessie (Mrs. Sayre) and Eleanor (Mrs. McAdoo) were the only children of Presidents married therein. Wives of Tyler, Benjamin Harrison, and Wilson died in the White House. John Tyler was father of the largest family, eight sons and six daughters. Eight Presidents: Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, W. H. Harrison, Tyler, Taylor, and Wilson were Virginians by birth. Six Presidents: Grant, Hayes, Garfield, B. Harrison, McKinley, and Taft, were Ohioans by birth.

The gallant old 40th regiment O. V. S. is holding its reunion in this city today and the boys are shaking hands and extending hearty greetings to one another. Governor Lyon delivered the address of welcome. Forty two members of the association registered their names. Wilbur Zell, playing right-end on the Xenia High School football squad fractured a bone in his shoulder at practice yesterday. Mrs. M.: "On August 14 one of your readers asked for a recipe for the following, which I am glad to send to help her: Transparent Pie: Cream together one-half cup of butter and one cup of sugar; add the beaten yolks of three eggs, one-half teaspoon of grated nutmeg, the grated rind and strained juice of one-half lemon, two tablespoons of fruit juice (we used to use Brandy but now substitute grapejuice) then fold in the beaten whites of the three eggs to which one teaspoon of baking powder has been added. Turn this mixture into a pastry-lined pan and bake for 30 minutes in a hot oven. If liked, the edge of the pie may be decorated with the following: Meringues, Beat three egg-whites stiff, add to them three tablespoons of powdered sugar and one-half tablespoon of lemon juice.

Answer: It was good of you to send this recipe to be published to help another housekeeper. I believe that many other Column Readers will try it as well.

M. E. S.: "Could you tell me how to remove orange spots from a pink taffeta dress? I would appreciate this as the dress was expensive."

Answer: I know how discouraged you must feel about the dress. I wish I could tell you of some absolutely sure way of removing the spots, but oranges are acid—and acid stains are very difficult to overcome. The only thing I know of for such a case is sponging the stained part of the fabric with ammonia and water (weak), then sponging it with chloroform; sometimes this will restore the color of the material, but, remember, this is only a suggestion and I do not actually advise it because it is not successful in all cases. It also works, sometimes, with spots caused by lemon juice and vinegar—but you must do it at your own risk.

A Reader Friend: "Here is the recipe for Potato Flour Muffins which was recently requested in the column: Beat together the yolks of four eggs and two tablespoons of sugar; add three tablespoons of cold water, sift in three-quarters of a cup of potato flour (or one cup of wheat flour, if you wish to use this for ordinary muffins) and add the one-half teaspoon of salt. Beat the four egg-whites stiff, adding to them, when nearly stiff, one teaspoon of baking powder, then fold the whites into the batter. Turn into greased muffin pans and bake 20 minutes in a hot oven."

Answer: Thank you, Reader Friend. If anybody cannot buy potato flour at their local grocer's, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and I will send the address of a firm that sells it by mail. Tomorrow—Good Pickles For The Home Table

MRS. MARGARET RAYMOND, COLUMBUS, OHIO.

The old adage that "Nothing succeeds like success" is proven true every day. Ka-di-ok, the stomach remedy and system builder, is a success, and it is such because it succeeds. If Ka-di-ok was other than a remedy of extraordinary merit, no such outburst of public approval could be had.

That Ka-di-ok is a remedy of unusual merit is proven every day by the large number of testimonials received from people in signed statements as to the benefits they have derived from its use. Recently Mrs. Margaret Raymond, who lives at 1665 Cleveland Avenue, Columbus said:

"I was in very poor physical condition and as weak and nervous as could be; barely had strength enough to keep on my feet and could hardly eat a thing. I had been through a serious operation and my weight was 108 pounds. 'I took Ka-di-ok, which had been highly recommended to me, and the result has been most gratifying; it gave me a good appetite, helped my nerves, and I rapidly grew stronger. I recently weighed myself and tipped the scales at 142 pounds. I now feel as well as ever.'"

Just Folks

THE INEVITABLE
Grief has no boundaries or dividing lines:
It treads the world according to God's will,
And gives no thought to any man's designs
Nor heeds the dreams he struggles to fulfill.

It is the common visitor to all.
It comes unbidden to the great and low;
We know some day upon us it will fall
But when the hour shall be we cannot know.

We may not plead: "Oh Lord, we need his smile."
He may not plead: "This labor have I planned—
Let me continue for a little while."
God wills, and all must bow to God's command.

We dream our dreams and plan our weeks and days,
We send our hopes of earthly joy afar,
We think we must press on for glory or praise,
Only to learn how trivial these are.

The wheels stop—There is crop upon the door—
What seemed important has been thrust aside—
How strange it seems some men to be as before!
What matters trade when one you loved has died?

Faith teaches us that we must be prepared,
Be ready with our courage for the test;
From the sharp hurt of sorrow none is spared,
And when it comes, God knows the hour is best.

TASTE

A machine needs constant adjusting. But the most wonderful machine in the world, your own body, gets little adjusting from time to time.

Your mental and moral tastes need to be zealously adjusted every day. Do this, and you will be surprised at the added interest in all that you do.

Out of the dulllest routine will rise new and attractive opportunities you never dreamed existed.

Your taste can be cultivated. Your taste for fine literature, for art, for the great beauties that exist all about you, for companionship—each is the result of selection.

Your tastes advertise to all about you exactly what you are. They tag you as the you were on exhibition.

Find out a man's tastes and you know whether you want him for a friend or associate.

And how delicately may a taste be adjusted.

A taste for noble things, for a courageous course of conduct, for the doing of work that is useful beyond your own immediate gain, lies within your power to cultivate.

And the more you give in time to this training of self, the higher you will rise.

Once clear a path thru your brain for a thought, and each succeeding thought gathers up and takes with it what has gone before. Refined and beautiful tastes will lift you as nothing else can.

CITIES SEEK ODD FELLOWS CONVENTION

Cincinnati, Sept. 18—Only routine work consumed the session of the independent order of Odd Fellows this morning at their ninth annual convention which opened here yesterday with more than 46,000 visitors present.

A spirited contest has begun between Washington D. C. and Jacksonville Fla. for the centenary convention next year.

A recommendation embodied in the opening address by Grand Sir Lucian J. Eastin of St. Joseph, Mo., is that one city be made a permanent seat for conventions of the order. An elaborate national temple, as a memorial or home for aged members, was suggested.

The society of Rebekahs are in attendance with the Odd Fellows.

COURT NEWS

Three On Trial

The case of the State of Ohio against Herman Saylor, Argus Saylor, and Lee Grith was begun in Common Pleas Court Tuesday morning with initial efforts to seat a jury.

The entire morning was consumed in empaneling the box with indications that the case would last at least two days. The trio of defendants was indicted by the grand jury on charges of rape with consent on behalf of a minor girl, L. T. Marshall assisting Prosecutor J. K. Williamson in presenting the case and Attorneys M. A. Broadstone and F. L. Johnson represent the defendants.

Four Granted Divorces

Four actions for divorce have been granted the plaintiff in Common Pleas Court while a fifth has been dismissed. William Fowler has been granted divorce from Marie Fowler on the grounds of gross neglect of duty. The case of Elizabeth Botorff against James H. Botorff has been dismissed for want of prosecution without prejudice and without final record. Willie C. Harner has been granted a divorce from Charles Harner on the grounds of gross neglect of duty. Ellen M. Taylor has been granted a divorce from James H. Taylor on the grounds of willful absence. William Henry has been granted a divorce from Rhea Henry on the grounds of willful absence of more than three years.

Wants Duties Made Clear

T. W. Trehan, as administrator of the estate of John Koogler, deceased has filed suit in Common Pleas Court against Thomas Koogler and others to get the direction and judgment of the court in settling the estate.

The petition alleges Christina Koogler died intestate leaving $7,338.08 to her husband, John Koogler, an appraisal of whose estate since his death showed property valued at $13,500.89. Heirs of Christina Koogler now claim a share in the distribution. L. T. Marshall is attorney for the plaintiff.

FARM NEWS OF GREENE COUNTY

COUNTY AGENT SUGGESTS RULES FOR CORN SEED SELECTION AND STORAGE METHODS

After stressing the importance of field selection of seed corn, as the result of recent early frosts, County Farm Bureau Agent Ford S. Prince, is submitting rules for the selection of the corn for seed, and methods of storage.

The following points cover the essentials of good seed corn, according to Mr. Prince: first, an adapted variety well selected; second, viable vigorous growing seed, and third, proper grading to insure even planting. The question of the best variety is a local problem because of the difference in soil and climatic conditions throughout Ohio. There are no two or three varieties, that are the best all over the state.

Having selected a variety, the next step to consider is how to obtain good seed. In general, three methods of choosing selected seed corn are practiced in the state. They are named in order of their desirability: first, selection from standing stalks, when the corn is ripening, with immediate storage of the seed; second selection at husking time with immediate storage, and third, selection from the crib before planting.

Under all conditions, seed corn should be dried out as easily as possible, according to Mr. Prince. The time of drying has a direct relation, not only to the germination sets, but also to the yield.

"The chances of getting good seed corn are much better if it is selected from standing stalks while they are ripening, rather than at husking time," said Mr. Prince. "The chances of getting it dried properly are better. There are other points in favor of field selection of seed corn. When we go into a corn field, just before it is ready to harvest, we will find, if the variety grown is adapted to our conditions, plants, on which both ears and stalks are dead ripe, plants, that are green while the ears ripen, and plants, which are entirely green.

On a normal, healthy stalk, the ear matures while the leaves and stalks are still green. Seed corn should be selected from such stalks. We can select early maturing ears, if it seems desirable. In many cases the plants did not fully mature but where both stalk and ear die early, did from disease or injury of some kind. Avoid all stalks that are smutty, all down stalks, all stalks with broken shanks, etc. In other words, avoid all stalks that do not look right. Keep this motto in mind, "select well developed ears from healthy plants."

"There are a few minor points to which attention should be given,"

Mr. Prince said. "Seed corn should be selected from stalks that bear their ears at a convenient height. It is better to select ears, that are hanging down, rather than ears the tips which point directly up.

"The proper time to select seed from the field is a busy time. Well developed ears from healthy stalks must be selected as rapidly as possible. There is no time to carefully look over each ear. Two or three times as many ears as are needed should be selected. It takes about 15 ears of corn to plant one acre. It should be possible for any man or boy to select seed corn enough to plant 20 acres in half a day."

President Coolidge May Have New Cobbler

Chandler Thompson

Twenty years ago in Northampton, Mass., a little boy of eight was struggling to get an education. Born deaf, he could utter only a few words. For three years Miss Grace Goodhue, his teacher, worked hard with this boy. She is now Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, wife of the President of the United States, and the boy is Chandler Thompson, a Los Angeles, Cal. cobbler, who has offered to make all the shoes of the Coolidge family if they will accept.

Have You Ever Built a Grate Fire?

Just as the grate fire must have paper, kindling and coal, so the gasoline you use must have three heat-producing elements to give you the best results from your motor. These elements are (1) a light, highly-volatile portion ("paper") to insure quick starting. (2) As wide as possible a range of increasingly heavy portions (the "kindling") to provide smooth acceleration and clean burning, and (3) A heavy portion ("coal") to develop great heat and power.

Red Crown Gasoline has long been famous for its complete chain of boiling points. It meets every requirement of a perfect year-round motor fuel.

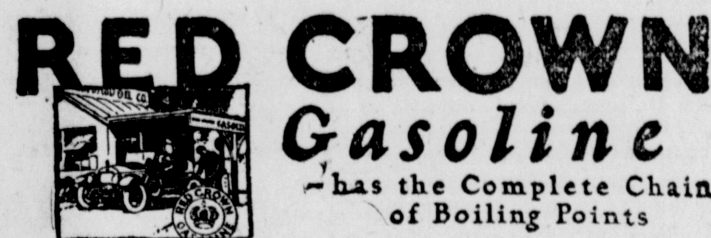

It always has the heat power and range necessary to efficient, economical motor operation under all the varying conditions of weather, engine speed and load. It is always available at more than 450 Standard Service Stations anywhere in Ohio and at many stores and garages as well.

5 Grades Polarine Motor Oils

Polarine Motor Oils are supplied in five grades to insure correct lubrication of every type of motor. Polarine Transmission Lubricants and Greases provide perfect lubrication of all transmission units. And the Polarine Chart of Recommendations is a quick, sure guide to the proper grade for every part of your car.

PASTOR OPPOSED TO LEAGUE NOW

"I went to Europe pro-League of Nations and I came back Anti-League," said the Rev. John Alvin Orr, pastor of one of the largest United Presbyterian churches in Pittsburgh, addressing a congregation at the Reformed Presbyterian Church in Cedarville, Sunday morning.
The Rev. Mr. Orr recently returned home after a summer spent in England, France, Spain, Germany, Holland, Belgium, and Switzerland, with his two sons, and is now visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Orr in Cedarville.
European people are in a war-like frame of mind. They think war. They are filled with the idea of gain, of conquest. They are unable to understand American idealism. The plan of giving something for nothing they look upon with suspicion, the Rev. Mr. Orr said.

SLAYERS OF TWO MEN IN CHICAGO ARE BEING HUNTED

Chicago, Sept. 18.—The strongest drive against illicit liquor rings since the Volstead law became effective was combined here today with a hunt for the men who last night shot and killed two alleged members of the notorious O'Donnell "beer syndicate" on a crowded Chicago corner. Seven men were in cells today in the quest for the slayers. The slain men were George McEghan and "Spot" Bucher, two of the most trusted lieutenants of Steve O'Donnell.

The police theory is that the two men were shot down by gangsters from New York operating under the direction of a notorious rum runner who came here from that city and who has been at war with the O'Donnell syndicate.

DEAD BABY MAY BE INFANT SOUGHT SINCE KIDNAPING

Morgantown, W. Va., Sept. 18.—A one-armed gypsy, traveling in a motorized Romany van, is being sought throughout the mountain regions as the man who left to die in a hospital here a baby which tallied in every way with the description of Lillian McKenzie, the four-months-old baby stolen from New York five weeks ago.

The whole country, summoned by wire and wireless when the baby was stolen from in front of a 10-cent store in Manhattan, is again asked by the police to be on the watch out for the gypsy wagon. The man is accompanied by a woman.

The pair came to the Monongahela hospital last Saturday evening and promised to return Sunday morning. They gave no name or address. The baby was evidently in need of immediate medical attention, and the physicians took it in. It died Sunday. No trace has been found of the man and woman who left it. The baby tallied in every way with the description of the McKenzie child, unusually large head, emaciated body, blue eyes, brown hair and about seven pounds in weight.

The police are awaiting the arrival of Mrs. Peter McKenzie, the mother and a detective from New York, before ordering disposal of the body.

The hospital physicians said the woman had declared the baby was ill of summer complaint, but that they found the child was suffering from weeks of under nourishment and was emaciated. The motor van bore a New York state license and the man said he was from Syracuse, N. Y., and a veteran of the world war. He said, according to the hospital authorities, that the woman was not his wife, but that he had "picked her up" on the road.

dealing with shabby suits or dresses that are no longer in style. They may be given away. They may be sold to the "old clothes" man, usually for next to nothing. Or they may be made over.

To make a dress out of an old suit requires skillful surgery, but the model shown in the sketch illustrates one way in which the transformation may be made. Here the trick lies in the application of the trimming, the embroidered bands hiding its darts in the rest of the jacket. Or if preferred, broad flat from shoulder to hem may be used. If the sleeve of the coat was fitted and is worn at the elbow, it may be cut off above the elbow, and finished with a wide, loose cuff made of bias pieces cut from the lower part of the coat. This should be pieced and hemmed onto the sleeve. But if the sleeve is not badly worn, it may be slashed to the elbow and finished with a Georgette frill to match the biases, as shown in the sketch.

MOTHER FEARS THE WORST

New York, Sept. 18.—Sobbing and fearful of what awaits her in the morgue at Morgantown, W. Va., Mrs. Ellen MacKenzie, whose baby was kidnapped here five weeks ago, left here to view the body of the infant that died in a hospital there. Mrs. MacKenzie said she feared it was only too true that the child was hers, as the physical description not only fitted Lillian, but the dead child also wore a blue and white sweater such as worn by Lillian when she was stolen.

O. S. & S. O. HOME NURSE SUCSUMBS

Miss Blanche W. Merchant 50 nurse at the hospital at the O. S. and S. O. Home, died at the institution hospital, Monday night at five o'clock, from pneumonia. Miss Merchant had been ill since Thursday.

Miss Merchant's home was in Prospect, Ohio, where she was employed as practical nurse, before coming to the state institution. Her brother, John Merchant, of Prospect, and a niece, from Washington, C. H., came to this city, Monday night, and accompanied the body to Prospect, Tuesday morning. A brief service, in charge of the Rev. G. A. Scott, of the First M. E. Church, this city, was held at the hospital, before the body was removed.

quarters that the Ku Klux Klan scored a coup in getting records of the organization out of the state. According to the report records and secret files were loaded on an airplane and carried outside the state. The military court of inquiry, it is said, expected to seize these records.

The military court, at its opening session, interrogated Campbell Russell, former chairman of the state corporation commission, and bitter enemy of Governor Walton. Russell, it was who precipitated the first physical clash since the troops came to the capital. He was circulating hand-bills picturing the governor as a man drunk with power and military rule. He was knocked down by A. R. Clark, son of a former police chief here. It was understood he was brought before the court to ascertain whether his circular would tend to incite riot and inflame public opinion.

A WIFE'S STORY

By Jane Phelps

THE OLD STORY REPEATED

Chapter XXX

"I shall be only too glad to leave here," I replied, "if we can afford a better place. But don't let's get into debt again, Paul. I have worked so hard to pay all those bills you left. I never dreamed we owed them until after you had gone, then they swooped down upon me like a swarm of flies."

"I won't live in such a hole," he replied, ignoring what I had said about debts, although he flushed a little. "We'll find a decent place to live at once."

"How much money have you, Paul?" I trembled with apprehension as I asked the question, knowing he would not like it. I hated too to spoil our first evening together by talking of money, but my anxiety was too great to let me be tactful.

"I hoped you had gotten over that habit of asking questions, I will take care of the finance question. We will find a place to live tomorrow," Paul replied.

Then we talked of other things, the children et cetera until I was almost happy again, almost forgot my worries in the joy of having their father home once more. Paul was so handsome, so thoroughly a man of the world—a prosperous world in looks—that I let myself drift through the rest of the evening hoping things would in some way righten themselves for us.

It was not easy to find a place to live. Rents had gone up enormously. Even the smallest apartment in a good locality was much more than our house in the country had been. It was three days before Paul told me he had found a suitable place, to get ready to move.

In the midst of my packing there came a knock on the door. Thinking it was the landlady I called "come in" and in stepped Dave Logan, I simply stood staring at him. My hair was covered with a towel, I had on a big enveloping apron.

ing off the towel and placing a chair for him. "We are moving. As you see I am dressed for work."

"Where's Paul?" he asked as he waited for me to sit.

"He had to go down town on business."

"Leaving you to pack alone,—"

"Oh, there's not much to pack! I rented these rooms furnished."

"What have you been doing while Paul was away? But there's no need to ask. Living in such quarters! Why didn't you tell me? And you have suffered. Your face shows it. Didn't you know I was your friend, would help you?"

"I couldn't—ask help. I got along very well."

"I saw he didn't believe me and after a few moments he left me after I had given him our new address."

"I shall see you often now I hope, Ruby," he said, I flushed at his familiar use of my name, but as he seemed unaware of anything out of place I made no remonstrance.

The five room apartment into which we moved seemed a palace compared to the rooms in which I had been living. Paul told me Logan had vouched for him with the agent. There was also an elevator in the house, much to Joan's delight.

"I won't be ashamed to have people come here," she said.

"It's no disgrace to be poor," I told her. "But debt, living beyond one's means, is a disgrace."

"Well now that dad is home I hope we will live like decent people. I'm awfully proud of dad. He's so good-looking, so young. Then with the cruelty of the very young, Joan added "He looks years and years younger than you do."

"He is seven ears older," I told her.

(thinking she had hurt me was quickly apologetic. "It's true, Mother, if I shouldn't have said it. You are so pretty too, prettier than any of the other girls' mothers when you are dressed up." To Be Continued

Hit by Bullet Intended for Miss Minter

O. G. Bradley.

When she made her startling revelation that she was the sweetheart of William Desmond Taylor the moving picture director mysteriously slain in Los Angeles because he waged a war on vendors of narcotics, Mary Miles Minter, screen star, declared she too, had been the victim of an assassin's plot. She said she had rented her Los Angeles home to Sigrid Holmquist. "The Swedish Mary Pickford, and that a bullet fired at Miss Holmquist, who resembles Miss Minter, had wounded one of Miss Holmquist's guests. It has just been revealed that it was O. Goodwin Bradley, of Los Angeles, who was thus shot from ambush."
